7. Each party shall return to the other party all original personal documents belonging to that party, including but not limited to identification documents, passports, birth certificates, social security cards, financial records, religious records, and any other personal records. Neither party shall retain copies, whether physical or electronic, of such documents belonging to the other party. All documents shall be returned within thirty (30) days of entry of the Decree of Divorce.

DEBTS AND OBLIGATIONS

18. During the marriage, the parties incurred debts and obligations. The marital debts and obligations have been divided in a fair and equitable manner. Each party shall assume and be solely responsible for the debts as previously was divided.

19. Shall any marital debts or obligations be later discovered, such debts or obligations shall be the sole responsibility of the party who incurred said debt, unless otherwise determined by the court that such division would not be fair or equitable.

20. Any debts incurred by a party for their own benefit or to further the benefit of a third party shall be the sole responsibility of the party who incurred the debt, unless otherwise equitable under Utah law.

c. Inform the joint creditor that each party is entitled to receive individual statements, notices, and correspondence required by law or by the terms of the contract and inform the creditor that no negative credit report or other exchange of credit history or repayment practices may be made regarding the joint obligation because of non-payment by the party required to pay the debt, unless the creditor has first made a demand for payment on the party not required to pay the debt.

ALIMONY

27. Neither party is awarded alimony. Both parties waive and relinquish the right to receive alimony from the other both now and in the future.

Excessive contact includes repeated or unwanted communication after a clear request to cease contact, use of alternative numbers or accounts to circumvent blocking, any contact via social media accounts or social media posts, or any communication intended to harass, intimidate, or control. A violation of this provision may subject the offending party to sanctions, including a finding of contempt of court. Nothing herein limits a party's ability to seek relief under applicable Utah law, including protective orders or stalking injunctions pursuant to Utah Code Ann §§ 78B-7- 601 (et al) or 78B-7-701 (et al).

MISCELLANEOUS
