Attorney for Respondent

IN THE THIRD DISTRICT COURT FOR SALT LAKE COUNTY
STATE OF UTAH

In the Matter of the Marriage of SHELLEY L TANNER, Petitioner, and WILLIAM WESLEY TANNER JR, Respondent.	DECREE OF DIVORCE Case no. 254906486 Judge: Hon. Thaddeus May Commissioner: Kim M. Luhn

This matter comes before the Honorable Thaddeus May on the Stipulation and Settlement Agreement of the Petitioner and the Respondent (collectively the “parties”) of March 27, 2026. The Court, having reviewed the parties’ Stipulation and Settlement Agreement, and being fully advised on the premises, and having entered its Finding of Fact and Conclusions of Law, now therefore:

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED AS FOLLOWS:

DIVORCE

1. Petitioner Shelley Tanner should be granted a divorce from Respondent William Tanner based on the parties' stipulation that irreconcilable differences have arisen between them, the divorce to become final upon entry.

CHILDREN

2. There have been four (4) children born as issue of this marriage, one deceased, and one of whom remains a minor: S.R.T. , born January 2009. No additional children have been born as issue of the marriage, and none are expected.

CHILD CUSTODY AND PARENT-TIME

3. Custody and Parent-time. The parties shall share joint legal custody of the minor child. Parent time shall be exercised as the parties may agree, but in the event they do not agree, the parties shall exercise parent-time pursuant to Utah Code Ann §81-9-305. Holidays and extended summer parent-time shall also be as the parties agree, but in the event of no agreement, then pursuant to Sec. 81-9-302, with Shelley designated as the custodial parent.

4. Relocation Parent-time. The parties shall abide by notice and all other relocation provisions as outlined in Utah Code Ann §81-9-209.

LEGAL CUSTODY AND PARENTING PLAN

5. Decision-making Regarding the Child. The parties should discuss with each other all important events in the life of the child having to do with major decisions surrounding health and medical care, education, religion, and extracurricular activities and attempt to come to an agreement. The parties will gather as much information as possible to aid them in their decision-making, including seeking advice from the child's health care providers, therapists, teachers, etc. If after discussing the issue the parties are unable to reach an agreement, the parties shall attend at least one good faith session of mediation using a court-certified mediator in an attempt to resolve the dispute. If there is still no agreement after mediation, the parties shall seek a court determination as to decision-making authority pursuant to Utah Code Ann. §81-9-2(11)(d)(ii) and (e)(iii)(A).

6. Day-to-day decisions regarding the care, control and discipline of the child should be made by the parent with whom the child is residing at the time.

7. Either party may make emergency decisions regarding the health and safety of the child.

8. Parent-time Exchanges and Transportation. The child is an adolescent and has access to independent transportation. The parents shall reasonably inform the child in advance of the relevant days with each respective parent, and encourage the child to timely commence the other parent's parent-time.

9. Virtual Parent-time. Both parents should allow liberal telephone and other virtual communication (e.g., FaceTime, etc.) with the other parent and should encourage the child to call the other parent, as is age appropriate. Each parent should allow the minor child to contact the other parent at any time the minor child desires to have telephone or virtual contact.

10. Each parent should have the right to contact the child at reasonable times and for reasonable durations.

11. Respect and Cooperation. Both parties recognize that the best interest of the child requires the parties to cooperate and treat each other with dignity and respect, especially in the presence of the child. Both parents should use their best efforts to foster the development and maintenance of positive relationships with the child by encouraging affection and promoting respect and good feelings toward the other parent. In In addition:

a. Neither parent should attempt to harm or alienate the relationship the other parent has with the child in any form. Neither parent should make or allow another person or agent within their control or influence to make any disparaging comments about the other person or the other person's spouse or significant other in the presence of or within earshot of the child, including making posts on social media.

b. The parents should cooperate and include each other as to their child's day care, health care, schooling, religious activities, organized sports, and other special activities and should notify each other of their child's regular activities.

c. The parents should not involve the child in disputes or disagreements that may arise between each other, but they may jointly discuss issues with their child to obtain their input.

12. The parties should regularly discuss the day-to-day routines and decisions being implemented in their homes to help the child feel comfortable in both homes by minimizing the differences in parenting styles, pursuant to the following:

a. Neither party should be required to follow the suggestions of the other party unless ordered by the court;

b. Both parents should cooperate in fostering the best interests of their child;

c. Each parent has the right to create an independent life with the child, allowing each parent to continue to play a full and active role in providing a sound emotional, moral, social, and educational environment for the child; and

d. Both parents should share information about any condition, problem, significant fact, or circumstance that may affect the other parent's relationship with, or the well-being of the child.

13. Both parents should be concerned for the best interest and well-being of the child; therefore, both parents should be governed by the following principles:

a. The parties should have a co-parenting relationship that is built on trust and respect;

b. The parties should establish and maintain parental communication with each other to ensure that the other parent is informed about the child's needs;

c. The parties should support each other in their respective parenting roles and should use positive words about the other parent and the other parent's partner or spouse to the child, and should be restrained from saying anything negative about the other parent, for the purpose of the child developing good self-esteem;

d. The parties should listen to each other and do their best to understand the other's point of view;

e. The parties should make all attempts to resolve all conflict between them and should utilize experts to assist them in this endeavor, if they are unsuccessful personally;

f. The parties should solve problems and make joint decisions by working through their decision-making procedure which is described herein;

g. If tension arises in a telephone call, the parties should take a break from the telephone call or leave their conversations to email;

h. The parties should work together to improve their parenting skills and to share their ideas;

i. The parties should live by the golden rule that they should treat each other as they would like to be treated;

j. Clothing, toys, and other items of the child's personal effects should be exchanged by the parties, and returned in clean condition, in order to facilitate the child's visits;

k. The parties should start over and recommit to this Parenting Plan when one or both of them steps outside of this plan and forgets about a commitment made in this plan; and

l. The parties should see the other parent as a resource, consultant, and ally. The parties should effectively work together as co-parents to promote the best interests of the child.

14. Contact Information. Each party should keep the other informed as to changes in residential address; home, work, and cell phone numbers; email addresses, and any other important contact information, including how to be reached in the event of an emergency.

15. Activities, Events and Information. Both Parties should be entitled to participate in all social and school functions the child attends. Each party should be entitled to know about all important events in the child's life, including the right to have relationships and access to third parties and information having to do with the child. This shall include health care providers and educators as well as medical and school records.

16. Non-interference with Parent-time. The parties should never schedule or promote to the child any special events or activities occurring during the other party's parent-time without first obtaining permission from that party in the following manner:

a. The requesting party should notify the other party of the event or activity and discuss with them the benefits of the child's attendance prior to discussing it with the child. If the other party has something scheduled or decides that the child cannot participate in the event or activity for any reason, the requesting party should abide by that decision and not attempt to influence the other parent through the child;

b. The child should be free to express interest in any activity of either parent at any time; and

c. Both parties should not interfere with each other's parent-time in any form. If either parent denies physical access to scheduled parent-time without just cause, that parent should pay all mediation or litigation costs associated with resolving the violation and to ensure freedom from future violations.

17. Neither parent should attempt to restrain or control the activities of the child during the other parent's parent-time.

18. Non-interference with Parties' Personal Lives. Each party should have the right to conduct his or her social life and business affairs as he or she sees fit without interference or comment from the other, except as their lifestyle choices negatively impact the care for the child, as set forth in this document.

19. Surrogate Care. Direct care by either parent as opposed to surrogate care should be presumed to be in the child's best interests.

20. Relatives. Ongoing relationships between the child and relatives should be encouraged and continued. Neither parent should interfere with relationships or visits between the child and relatives, including cousins, aunt, uncles, and grandparents arbitrarily, in bad faith, or without sufficient cause.

21. Relocation Notice. In the event either party intends to relocate 150 miles or more, the parties should follow the notice requirements found in Utah Code Ann. §81-9-209, with the party desiring to relocate being required to give advance written notice of at least sixty (60) days to the other parent prior to the move.

22. Adjustments or Modifications. All permanent adjustments or modifications to the parties' Parenting Plan should be made in writing, signed by both parties, notarized and filed with the Court. Temporary or minor changes may be made whenever the parties agree.

If a parent fails to comply with any of the provisions set about under this Parenting Plan, the other parent's obligations under said section should not be affected.

FINANCIAL ACCOUNTS

23. William shall be awarded the funds in the Deseret First Credit Union (DFCU) checking account ending 4186. However, the parties may agree Shelley will maintain the account.

24. William shall be awarded the funds in the grouped DFCU savings accounts ending 8601.

25. The parties agree to divide, two-thirds to William and one-third to Shelley, the balance of the DFCU money market account ending 8606.

26. Shelley shall be awarded the DFCU certificate of deposit (CD) account ending 0370.

27. William shall be awarded the DFCU personal checking/savings account ending 1414.

28. Shelley shall be awarded the DFCU personal checking/savings account ending 1641.

29. William shall be awarded his Fidelity 401(k) account ending 7721.

30. William shall be awarded his DA Davidson IRA account ending 2927.

31. William shall be awarded his Janus Roth IRA account ending 2913.

32. Shelley shall be awarded her Fidelity Current Simp K account ending 3018.

33. Shelley shall be awarded her DA Davidson IRA account ending 5248.

34. Shelley shall be awarded her Janus Roth IRA account ending 5713.

REAL ESTATE

35. The parties acquired an ownership interest in certain real property during the course of their marriage: a marital home at 6763 W. Spring Oak Dr., West Jordan, UT 84081. Shelley shall be awarded exclusive possession of the marital home, subject to any liabilities thereon, for which Shelley shall be solely responsible. Along with Shelley's exclusive occupancy of the marital home, the existing mortgage will continue in order for Shelley to enjoy the advantage of the 2.1% interest rate. Shelley shall have the right at any time to refinance the existing mortgage balance in her own name if she so chooses, but no later than 60 months from the date of the signing of this stipulation Shelly shall remove William from the mortgage. In the event Shelley shall become more than 90 days delinquent in paying the mortgage, the parties agree the home shall be put to market and sold, with the proceeds to be divided equally between the parties.

VEHICLES

36. William will be awarded the 2023 Subaru Crosstrek, subject to any loans, taxes, registration, insurance, and the like.

37. Shelley will be awarded the 2018 Subaru Crosstrek, subject to any loans, taxes registration, insurance and the like.

OTHER PERSONAL PROPERTY

38. William shall be awarded the rights of sepulture the parties currently hold with Salt Lake Cemetery.

39. The Parties shall work together to make an equitable division of the remainder of their personal property. If they are unable to agree, they will return to mediation and each bear half the cost of the mediation.

OTHER LIABILITIES

40. William shall assume full liability of the parties' Discover Card, and hold Shelley harmless from any future liability attached thereto.

41. William shall assume full liability of the parties' Amazon Prime Card, and hold Shelley harmless from any future liability attached thereto.

42. Shelley shall assume full liability of the parties' DFCU Visa, and hold William harmless from any future liability attached thereto.

43. Shelley shall assume full liability of the parties' HVAC Loan with Mosaic, and hold William harmless from any future liability attached thereto.

SUPPORT

44. Child support shall be calculated using a Sole Custody Child Support Obligation Worksheet and based on the parties' respective gross monthly incomes, pursuant to Utah Code Ann. §78B-12-101 et seq. William is employed with a gross monthly income of $7,833. Shelley is employed as an accountant part-time and earns a gross monthly income of $5,500 but is imputed to full-time employment for the purpose of calculating child support at a gross monthly income of $6,500.

45. Based on the foregoing figures and the Utah Child Support Guidelines, William's base child support obligation is $73. The parties agree child support payments shall commence April 1, 2026.

46. The court finds that there are no child support arrears prior to April 1, 2026.

47. The child support obligation should continue through the end of the month a child becomes 18 years of age, or through the end of the month of the child's normal and expected date of graduation from high school, whichever occurs later.

48. Any child support payable by the obligor parent should be paid on the first day of each month.

49. Neither party is receiving public assistance (TANF) from the State of Utah, and therefore notice to the State of Utah is not required pursuant to 42 USC 601 et seq.

50. Extracurricular Activities. The parties will share equally the cost of any of the child's extracurricular activities which the parties agree upon in advance and in writing.

51. Health Insurance and Medical Expenses. Shelley's health insurance shall be the primary coverage for S.R.T. William will be responsible for insurance coverage for dental and vision.

52. Both parents should provide cash medical support by equally sharing all reasonable and necessary uninsured and unreimbursed medical, dental, orthodontic, optical, and mental health expenses incurred for the dependent child, including deductibles and copayments. Both parties must consent to any elective procedures such as alternative health treatments, cosmetic surgery, etc. in order to be obligated to contribute to the cost.

53. The parent who incurs necessary medical expenses should provide written verification of the cost and payment of medical expenses to the other parent within thirty (30) days of payment, as set forth in Utah Code Ann. §78B-12-212. The other parent should then reimburse the parent incurring the expense within thirty (30) days after receiving the verification.

54. The parent who incurs medical expenses may be denied the right to receive credit for the expenses, or to recover the other parent's share of the expenses, if that parent fails to provide written verification of the cost and payment of medical expenses within thirty (30) days of payment, as set forth in Utah Code Ann. §78B-12-212.

55. The requirement for either parent to maintain health and dental insurance, and/or to pay any non-covered medical and dental expenses should remain in effect for a child only as long as the child is of the age that he or she would be entitled to receive child support.

56. Income Taxes. The parties will file a joint tax return for the 2025 tax year. Beginning with the 2026 tax year, the parties will file separate income tax returns; Shelley shall claim S.R.T. as a dependent for 2026 tax year, and Shelley may claim S.R.T. as a dependent in 2027 if she so chooses.

57. Spousal Support/Alimony. William shall pay Shelley family support in the amount of $250 per month for 18 months, beginning April 1, 2026. Family support is defined as child support plus alimony. When William's monthly child support of $73 ends, alimony will continue in the amount of $250 for the remaining agreed-upon term. The court finds William has agreed to waive the standard statutory alimony termination provisions outlined in Utah Code 81-4-505.

58. Name Change. Shelley should be immediately restored to the use of her former last name of "Lewis" should she so choose.

59. Attorney Fees. Each party should pay their own attorney fees and costs of court incurred in connection with this action.

60. Duty to Sign Documents. Both Parties should be ordered to sign and fully execute whatever documents are necessary for the implementation of the provisions of their divorce decree. Should a party fail to execute a document within 60 days of the entry of their divorce decree, the other party may bring an Motion to Enforce at the expense of the disobedient party and ask that the Court appoint some other person to execute the document pursuant to Rule 70 of the Utah Rules of Civil Procedure. Any document executed pursuant to Rule 70 has the same effect as if executed by the disobedient party.
