IN THE THIRD JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT
IN AND FOR SALT LAKE COUNTY, STATE OF UTAH

In the Matter of the Marriage of

MEGAN ALEXANDRA LINDSAY, Petitioner,

CRAWFORD CHASE LINDSAY,
Respondent.

DECREE OF DIVORCE

Case No. 264902378

Judge Kristine Johnson
Commissioner Joanna Sagers

This matter comes before the Court upon the parties' Stipulation and Marital Settlement Agreement (the "Stipulation") and Stipulated Final Parenting Plan (the "Parenting Plan"), each executed by the parties on September 25, 2026, following mediation with Todd W. Wetsel, J.D. Petitioner, Megan Alexandra Lindsay ("Megan"), is represented by Nathan B. Wall of Wall & Wall, P.C. Respondent, Crawford Chase Lindsay ("Crawford"), is represented by Douglas L. Stowell of Stowell Crayk, PLLC. The parties have consented to the entry of a Decree of Divorce consistent with the terms of the Stipulation without further notice or hearing.

Petitioner filed her Verified Petition for Divorce on May 5, 2026, and more than ninety (90) days have elapsed since the filing of the Petition. The parties have completed the mandatory divorce orientation and divorce education courses.

The Court, having reviewed the Stipulation, the Parenting Plan, and the file, having made and entered its Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and good cause appearing, HEREBY ORDERS, ADJUDGES, AND DECREES as follows:

1. The bonds of matrimony heretofore existing by and between Petitioner, Megan Lindsay ("Megan"), and Respondent, Crawford Lindsay ("Crawford"), are hereby dissolved, and the parties are hereby awarded a Decree of Divorce, effective immediately upon entry by this Court, on the grounds of irreconcilable differences.

2. CHILDREN. The parties have two (2) children born of their marital relationship: P.M.L., born August 2017 and L.C.L., born October 2020 (“the Children”).

3. LEGAL/PHYSICAL CUSTODY. The parties will share joint legal and joint physical custody of the children as set forth in the Parenting Plan set forth herein.

4. CHILD SUPPORT.

a. Back Child Support/Claims for Reimbursement. Any claims for back child support, overpayment of child support, and any other financial claims related to the children, including, but not limited to, unreimbursed healthcare costs, insurance expenses, and costs associated with extracurricular activities, are hereby deemed fully satisfied or waived by both parties as of the date of this Stipulation.

b. Incomes. For the purpose of calculating child support, Megan’s gross monthly income is $5,000.00, and Crawford’s gross monthly income will be imputed at $8,000.00.

c. Guideline Child Support. Child support has been calculated pursuant to the Utah Child Support Guidelines using the Joint Physical Custody Worksheet, based upon Crawford exercising 164 overnights per year and Megan exercising 201 overnights per year. Based upon the foregoing incomes and overnight allocation, the presumptively correct guideline child support obligation is $706.00 per month payable by Crawford to Megan. Child support shall begin the month after the month the marital home is sold.

d. Agreed Upward Deviation. Notwithstanding the presumptively correct guideline amount, the parties agree to an upward deviation from the Utah Child Support Guidelines for a period of three (3) years. During that period, Crawford will pay Megan $1,000.00 per month in child support. Crawford's obligation to pay $1,000.00 per month will commence the month immediately following the closing of the sale of the parties' marital residence, as provided elsewhere in this Stipulation. The parties contemplate that the three-year deviation period will run through August 31, 2029, with child support to be recalculated effective September 1, 2029.

e. Recalculation Effective September 1, 2029. Effective September 1, 2029, the agreed upward deviation will terminate, and child support will be recalculated pursuant to the Utah Child Support Guidelines based upon the parties' actual incomes at that time, together with the custody and parent-time schedule then in effect and all other factors required by the Guidelines. Neither the $1,000.00 agreed child support amount nor the incomes used for the present calculation will establish or create a presumption as to the appropriate amount of child support after August 31, 2029.

f. Termination of Child Support. Pursuant to UCA § 81-6-213, child support for a the child will terminate at the time: 1) the child becomes 18 years of age or has graduated from high school during the child's normal and expected year of graduation, whichever occurs later, or 2) the child dies, marries, or becomes a member of the armed forces of the United States, or 3) the child is emancipated in accordance with UCA § 80-7-102 et seq.

g. Payments will be made via Venmo, one-half by the 5th and one half to be paid by the 20th. Either party may choose to involve the Office of Recovery Services (“ORS”).

5. HEALTHCARE. The statutory provisions of Utah Code § 81-6-208 apply:

If a parent remarries and the child is not covered by that parent's health insurance plan but is covered by a step-parent's plan, the health insurance plan of the step-parent shall be treated as if it is the plan of the remarried parent and shall retain the same designation as the primary or secondary plan of the child."

(b) A court or administrative agency may not modify the language required by Subsection (7)(a)(ii).

(c) Notwithstanding Subsection (7)(b), the court may allocate the payment of medical expenses including co-payments, deductibles, and co-insurance not covered by health insurance between the parents.

(b) If the prior court or administrative order does not specify what proportions of the expenses are to be shared:

(i) the court may determine the amount of liability as may be reasonable and necessary; and

(ii) the administrative agency may determine the amount of liability in accordance with established rules.

To the extent permitted by Delta Air Lines and the applicable SkyMiles program rules, one-half of the SkyMiles existing as of September 25, 2026, will be transferred to an account maintained by each party so that each ultimately receives an equal share of the accumulated miles. If a transfer or division of the SkyMiles can be completed, the parties will complete the transfer or division as soon as reasonably practicable, but in no event later than thirty (30) days after the sale of the marital home. Any reasonable transfer fee or other charge necessary to accomplish the equal division will be equally shared by the parties. If Delta Air Lines does not permit the SkyMiles to be divided or transferred between the parties on a reasonably practical basis, the parties will cooperate in using the existing SkyMiles account for the benefit of each party until each has received the benefit of one-half of the SkyMiles existing as of September 25, 2026. The party controlling the account will timely cooperate with reasonable requests from the other party to use that party's allocated share of the SkyMiles for airfare or other benefits available through the SkyMiles program and will not intentionally use, transfer, redeem, encumber, or allow the expiration of the other party's allocated share. Any SkyMiles earned after September 25, 2026, through a party's individual travel, credit-card activity, purchases, or other activity will be the sole and separate property of the party earning those miles and will not be subject to division under this provision.

a. Proof of Coverage. During the period in which Crawford is required to maintain life insurance, Crawford will provide Megan, upon reasonable request, a copy of the policy, declaration page, beneficiary designation, or other documentation reasonably sufficient to establish that the required insurance remains in full force and effect and that Megan remains designated as the sole and exclusive beneficiary for the benefit of the minor children. c. Beneficiary Designation. Crawford will not remove the children as beneficiaries, designate an additional or contingent beneficiary in a manner that diminishes the children's entitlement to the required death benefit, assign the policy or its proceeds, or otherwise take any action that would interfere with the children receiving the required insurance proceeds upon Crawford's death while this obligation remains in effect.

d. Failure to Maintain Required Insurance. If Crawford dies while obligated to maintain the insurance required by this provision and has failed to maintain the required coverage, has maintained coverage in an amount less than $140,000, or has designated a person or entity other than the children to receive all or any portion of the required death benefit, a constructive trust will be imposed upon any life insurance proceeds payable as a result of Crawford's death to the extent necessary to satisfy his obligation under this provision.

e. Termination of Insurance Obligation. Crawford's obligation to maintain the children as beneficiaries will terminate when he no longer owes any continuing obligation for child support. Upon termination of the child support obligation, Crawford may cancel the policy, reduce the coverage, or change the beneficiary designation.

20. MUTUAL RESTRAINTS.

a. Each party will be permanently restrained from bothering, harassing, annoying, threatening, and/or harming the other at any time or in any place.

b. The parties will be permanently restrained from defaming, slandering, or making false public statements about the character or reputation of the other party.

f. Extended Parent Time (Summer Break). During the children's summer break from school, the parties will exercise parent time on an alternating week-on/week-off schedule, with exchanges occurring each Monday at 9:00 a.m. The summer parent-time schedule will begin on the first Monday following the last day of school. The parent who has the children under the regular parent-time schedule immediately preceding that Monday will continue to have the children for the first week of the summer schedule. The first summer exchange will therefore occur on the following Monday at 9:00 a.m. This is intended to preserve and continue the parties' existing alternating weekend rotation when transitioning into the summer schedule. The summer parent-time schedule will continue through the Monday immediately preceding the resumption of school, at which time the parties will return to the regular parent-time schedule. If school resumes on a Monday, the summer schedule will end on the preceding Monday, and the regular parent-time schedule will resume as of that date. Summer exchanges will occur at 9:00 a.m. each Monday, with the parent beginning his or her week picking up the children from the other parent. The holiday provisions of this Parenting Plan will take precedence over the regular summer parent-time schedule in the event of a conflict.

g. Virtual Parent Time. Each parent will allow, encourage, and facilitate reasonable private teleconference or videoconference between the children and the other parent to facilitate their relationship.

h. Special Consideration. Special consideration will be given by each parent to make the children available to attend family functions, including funerals, weddings, family reunions, religious holidays, important ceremonies, and other significant events in the life of the children or in the life of either parent, which may inadvertently conflict with the parenting schedule.

25. TRANSPORTATION. Unless otherwise mutually agreed, transportation arrangements for the children between the parents will be as follows:

a. School Days. The parent who ends their parent time will deliver the children to school. The parent beginning their parent time will pick up the Children after school.

b. Non-School Days. The parent who is beginning their parent time ("the receiving parent") will pick up the children from the other parent. All non-school exchanges will be at the parties' respective residences, curbside (meaning the front of a parent's residence on the street).

c. Other.

i. Third-party adults who are known to the parties and the Children will be allowed to provide transportation for parent time exchanges.

ii. The Children will be fed, bathed, and appropriately clothed before parent time exchanges occur.

iii. The Children will be picked up and delivered promptly at the scheduled times. Each parent will notify the other as soon as possible whenever a parent time exchange will not occur as scheduled.

iv. Transportation to alternative places, such as school and extracurricular activities, is the responsibility of the parent with whom the Children are then residing.

26. DAY-TO-DAY DECISIONS.

a. Each parent will make decisions regarding the day-to-day care and control of the children while residing with that parent. Either parent may make emergency decisions affecting the health or safety of the children.

b. Both parents will have full access to school, daycare, medical, and other children records. Both parents will be listed as emergency contacts on all such records.

c. The parties will make a good faith effort to notify each other within 24 hours of setting up a school or medical/health or other such appointments for the children, and both parents will be entitled to attend and participate fully.

d. Both parents will have equal and independent authority to confer with and attend appointments for the children's school, preschool, daycare, therapy, doctor/dental appointments, and other programs regarding the children's educational, emotional, and social progress.

27. MAJOR DECISIONS. In the spirit of the parties' joint legal custody arrangement, the parties recognize the importance of cooperative parenting. The parties wish to implement this decision-making process to make decision-making a collaborative approach. The parties will consult with one another and endeavor to reach agreements on the following major issues: medical, dental care and orthodontia, psychological treatment and counseling, and education. Except in situations requiring emergency (ex parte) orders to protect the children, both parties will be required to take the following steps to resolve disputes about significant decisions:

Step 1: Attempt to solve any dispute between them civilly before resorting to any other process. The parties will have a civil and polite conversation via email.

Step 2: Confer with or solicit the assistance of someone with expertise in the area of the dispute, such as the children's healthcare providers, schoolteachers, etc. There will be a rebuttal presumption that the parties shall follow or adopt the recommendation of the children's healthcare provider if they disagree on a healthcare issue, and educators if they disagree on an education decision.

Step 3: Engage a mediator to attempt to resolve the dispute. Each party will be required to pay one-half (1/2) of the mediator's costs.

Step 4: If an agreement cannot be reached after mediation, either party may request the court's assistance in resolving the issue.

28. HEALTHCARE PROVIDERS. Unless mutually agreed in writing or ordered by the court, the children will continue to receive care from their current healthcare providers. As noted above, if the parties disagree on a healthcare issue, there is a rebuttable presumption that the recommendation of the children's healthcare provider shall be followed. If a current provider is no longer available or willing to provide services, the parties will seek a referral from that provider for a replacement. The provider recommended through this referral will be presumed to become the new treating provider, unless otherwise mutually agreed.

29. NOTICE OF RELOCATION. If either party relocates more than 150 miles from their current residence, the provisions for notification in the relocation statute outlined in U.C.A. Section 81-9-209 (2024) will apply.

30. EDUCATION PLAN.

a. School Location. The children will attend school from Megan's home as long as Megan resides in Salt Lake County.

b. Education Decisions. Education decisions will be handled according to the Major Decision-Making section above. Both parents will have access to the children during school, and both will have the authority to check the children out of school on their parent time days for appointments or extra-curriculars provided they inform the other parent in advance. Either Party may check the children out of school when appropriate, with advance notice to the other Party when reasonably practicable. Regular school hours shall not be interrupted for the exercise of parent-time absent agreement of the Parties, consistent with Utah Code Ann. §81-9-202(6) (as amended).

c. School Attendance/Homework. The parties will ensure the children complete homework assignments and school projects due during their parent time. The parties will ensure the children are delivered to school on time and ready to start their day. The parties agree that the children must attend school unless they mutually agree that a child is sick (and medical verification is provided).

d. Parent Teacher Conference. The parties will attend parent-teacher conferences together whenever possible, as joint participation is presumed to be in the children's best interests. If either party is unable or unwilling to attend jointly, the parties will arrange separate conferences with the same teacher(s) or school personnel, and the school will be notified accordingly. Neither parent will be denied the opportunity to attend or schedule a conference independently.

31. MUTUAL RESTRAINTS. The parties will be mutually restrained from the following:

a. Disparaging the other party or the family member or friends of the other party or otherwise speaking about the other party in a defamatory, demeaning, offensive, or derogatory manner while in the children's presence.

b. Allowing any third person under the party’s direct control to disparage the other party or a member of the other party's family or friends or otherwise speak in a defamatory, demeaning, offensive, or derogatory manner in the children's presence.

c. Asking the children to make decisions or requests involving the parent time schedule or leading the children to believe that it is their choice to see or live with the other parent.

d. Involving the children in adult issues, discussing with or informing the children of the status or amount of child support payments, or telling the children about the parties' past or current legal details.

e. Discussing the children's relationship with the other parent in front of or with the children, or from questioning, interrogating, or otherwise "pumping" the children for information regarding what occurs when the children is with the other parent and from allowing any other person to do so.

32. COMMUNICATION. The parties will use email and text as their primary means of communication regarding the children. The parties will not communicate via phone unless there is an emergency that requires action within 24 hours. If a communication requires a response, the receiving parent will respond within 48 hours, unless the message explicitly indicates a longer response time is acceptable.

a. Permitted Topics of Communication. Communication will be limited to children-related matters:

- School and academic issues
- Healthcare and medical appointments
- Extracurricular activities
- Parent-time exchange logistics

b. Sharing of Important Information. Each parent is individually responsible for staying informed about the children's school events, extracurricular activities, social events, and community functions. If it is reasonably apparent that the other parent would not otherwise be aware of such information, the informed parent will notify the other within 24 hours of receiving it. If there is a new activity scheduled the parent who knows of the activity will in addition to putting it on the google calendar will notify the other parent via text or email within 24 hours.

c. Google Calendar Use. The parties will use a shared Google Calendar to share and track:

- The children's activities and appointments
- School-related meetings where both parents are required to attend
- The parent-time schedule, including holidays and special events

Any parent who schedules an appointment must enter it into the Google calendar immediately.

d. Contact Information Updates. Each parent must provide the other with their current physical address, phone number, email address, and any relevant virtual parent-time access information within 24 hours of any change.

e. Illness or Injury Notification. Each parent will promptly notify the other of any illness or injury involving the children, as soon as reasonably possible.

f. Travel Itinerary. Whenever the children are away from home with a parent for vacation, out-of-town travel, and the like), the parent will provide a travel itinerary and telephone numbers to reach the children in advance of the trip.

33. SURROGATE CARE.

a. If either parent is away and unavailable to care for the children during their scheduled parent time for an overnight period, that parent will first offer the other parent the opportunity to care for the children before making alternative childcare arrangements. For purposes of this provision, an “overnight period” means any period in which the parent would be away and unavailable from the children’s usual bedtime through the following morning. The offering parent will provide reasonable notice, contemplated to be 24 hours in advance (if known) to the other parent of the need for care, including the anticipated start and end time of the overnight absence. The receiving parent will respond within two hours time of their availability to provide care. If the receiving parent declines or does not respond within the two hours, the offering parent may make alternative childcare arrangements.

b. When leaving the children with a third-party caregiver, the parent must share the other parent's contact information with the caregiver and also provide the caregiver’s name and contact information to the other parent.

34. NOTIFICATION OF TRAVEL. Before taking the children out of town overnight, the traveling parent will provide the other parent with written notification with the basic details of the trip, including at least the departure date, where the children will be, the return date, and a contact number.

35. OVERNIGHT GUESTS: Neither party shall permit a person with whom that party is romantically involved to stay overnight at the party’s residence while the minor children are present unless the relationship has been exclusive and committed for at least three (3) consecutive months and the children have been appropriately introduced to that person beforehand. This provision shall apply equally to both parties and shall not apply to relatives or platonic guests.

a. Except as it relates to the child P.M.L.'s dance, the parties will equally share all out-of-pocket amounts incurred for the Children's extracurricular activities in which both parties agree in writing that the Children will be involved. The children's preferences regarding activities and lessons will be considered and given age-appropriate weight. If an extracurricular activity has not been mutually agreed upon by both parents, neither parent will be required to forfeit or modify their parent-time to accommodate that activity.

b. Extracurricular activities are defined as academic or non-academic activities that are outside of normal classroom time and are not part of the Children's school curriculum, including but not limited to sports, lessons, or camps. This obligation does not extend to costs related to a child's participation in a club sport unless otherwise mutually agreed. The party incurring the extracurricular activity out-of-pocket costs will submit to the other party verification of the incurred expense, such as a receipt or an invoice, within thirty (30) days of payment or receiving the same and will be reimbursed by the other party within thirty (30) days of receiving the verification of incurred expenses.

c. The parties will provide full information about all activities to the other parent within a reasonable time of the Children's enrollment, regardless of who initiated the activity or paid for it.

d. The parties will encourage the Children to participate fully in the activities. It is understood that the Children will attend these activities reasonably and consistently, and the parent who has the Children in his or her care that day ("the residential parent") will be responsible for transportation to and from the activities. The residential parent will decide when, from time to time, the children will not attend because of illness or other special circumstances.

e. Both parents and any guests may attend public events related to extracurricular activities (e.g., games, recitals, performances, etc.). The parties will remain cordial and not discuss Child-related arrangements or any contentious issues at that time. They will require any of their guests to also remain cordial to the other parent.

f. When both parents attend public events related to the activity, such as games, recitals, performances, etc., the residential parent will direct the children to make a connection with the other parent before and after the event. The residential parent will tell the children to take time after the event to speak to the other parent. The residential parent will give the Children privacy and space to make this brief connection and will wait for the Children in the car, parking lot, or lobby.

g. Megan will be solely responsible for and will pay 100% of all costs and expenses associated with P.M.L.'s participation in dance, and Crawford will have no obligation to contribute to or reimburse Megan for any such expenses. These expenses include, without limitation, tuition, registration and enrollment fees, studio fees, private or supplemental lessons, choreography fees, competition and convention fees, recital and performance fees, costumes, costume alterations, dancewear, practice attire, shoes, tights, accessories, hair and makeup supplies, team or studio apparel, photographs, videos, performance-related fees, and all travel-related expenses associated with dance, including transportation, lodging and meals associated with competitions, conventions, performances, or other dance events. Although Crawford will have no financial responsibility for P.M.L.'s dance expenses, he agrees to support and facilitate her continued participation in dance during his parent time. Crawford will ensure that P.M.L. timely attends her regularly scheduled practices, rehearsals, competitions, recitals, performances, and other required dance activities when they occur during his parent time, including providing necessary transportation to and from those activities. When P.M.L. has a competition, recital, performance, or other dance event requiring preparation, Crawford will ensure that she arrives timely and appropriately prepared, including having the necessary costume, shoes, accessories, hair, and makeup completed as required by the studio or event. If Crawford is unavailable or does not wish to undertake the necessary performance preparation, he will allow Megan to pick up P.M.L. sufficiently in advance of the event to complete her hair, makeup, costuming, and other necessary preparation and transport her to the event. The parties will reasonably coordinate the timing of any such pickup so that P.M.L. is fully prepared and arrives on time. The parties acknowledge that the purpose of this provision is to allow P.M.L. to participate consistently in dance regardless of which parent is exercising parent time, while allocating the financial responsibility for that activity entirely to Megan.

37. Megan can ask Crawford to allow Megan to pick up the children during Crawford's parent time in order for the children to prepare for competitions/performances and Crawford will not unreasonably withhold his permission. At Crawford's option, he can request make up parent time from Megan's parent time, and Megan will accommodate that request.

38. DCFS. In the event either party determines to call DCFS with any claims against the other party, the calling party will first contact a Guardian ad Litem ("GAL")and provide all information about the claim to the GAL in advance of making the call to DCFS, and the GAL will conduct an interview of the child(ren) and make the determination whether it is appropriate to file with DCFS. In order to facilitate this paragraph, the parties will meet and confer and pick a GAL to be "on call," and will each party will pay one-half of the GAL retainer fee.

End Of Parenting Plan

39. NECESSARY DOCUMENTS. Each party agrees to promptly sign and execute any and all documents necessary to effectuate the terms of the Stipulation, including those required for the entry of this Decree of Divorce.

40. DEFAULT. If either party defaults in the performance of their obligations under this Decree, the defaulting party will be responsible for all reasonable costs incurred by the other party to enforce the Decree, including reasonable attorney's fees.
