18. Amy shall pay any and all medical debt resulting from her CPAP, which as of the date of stipulation is a debt of approximately $519.34 at IC Systems and debt of approximately $483.89 at IHC. The parties will be responsible for any medical bills and/or debt incurred since separation (July 10, 2026).

19. The debt in Ryan's sole name and Amy's medical debt are the only debts currently disclosed by the parties. The parties agree that should any unresolved and undisclosed marital or medical debt be discovered that Ryan shall be responsible for the payment of said debt.

20. The parties shall notify respective creditors or obligees regarding the division of debts, obligations, or liabilities herein and the parties' separate, current addresses, and should refinance any debt that is in the other party's name solely into the responsible party's own name within 60 days.

21. Ryan shall indemnify and hold Amy harmless against any liability or fiscal injury arising from debts for which he is responsible, including harm to credit standing and related costs. Amy should indemnify and hold Ryan harmless against any liability or fiscal injury arising from the medical debt resulting from her CPAP, including harm to credit standing and related costs. The parties agree that if either party fails to timely pay any allocated debt and that failure results in adverse credit action, collection activity, fees, or other fiscal injury affecting the other party, then, in addition to any other relief, the following remedies should apply: (a) The parties agree that the party failing to pay allocated debt shall immediately reimburse the other party for all amounts a party is required to pay or has paid to cure the default, together with any late fees, penalties, interest, and reasonable costs of mitigation. (b) The parties agree that the party failing to pay allocated debt shall pay the other party's reasonable attorney's fees and costs incurred in enforcement. (c) As liquidated damages for credit harm, the parties agree that the party failing to pay allocated debt shall pay an additional amount equal to ten percent of the outstanding balance of the delinquent obligation, or $1,000, whichever is greater. (d) Upon request, the parties agree that the party failing to pay allocated debt shall execute all documents necessary to place the debt on automatic payment, wage withholding, or autopay from an account funded by the party failing to pay allocated debt , and shall provide written proof of current status within seven days. (e) If a revolving or installment account remains more than 30 days past due after notice, the Court may order immediate refinance, substitution, or payoff of the account by the party failing to pay allocated debt, or require sale of collateral as appropriate, to remove Amy from liability. (f) This provision is enforceable by contempt. The remedies listed are cumulative and do not limit other equitable relief the Court may grant.

22. Upon entry of the Decree of Divorce, and pursuant to Utah Code Ann. § 15-4-6.5, any joint contractual obligation remains enforceable by the creditor unless and until a new contract is entered into between the creditor and the individual debtor. Accordingly, the party assigned responsibility for any joint debt under the Decree of Divorce should take all necessary, diligent, and timely steps to enter into a new contract, refinance, or otherwise obtain a novation with the creditor in that party's sole name, such that the other party is fully released from any further liability, obligation, or exposure on the debt. The parties agree that the responsible party shall complete this process within ninety (90) days of entry of the Decree of Divorce. Until such time as the release is completed, the parties agree that the responsible party shall timely pay the obligation in full and should indemnify, defend, and hold the other party harmless from any claims, demands, credit reporting consequences, collection efforts, attorney fees, or damages arising from the joint obligation.

Alimony

23. The parties agree that Amy has been a stay-at-home mother and had no meaningful opportunity to establish a career or livable wage. Amy currently has no income. Ryan receives SSDI in the gross amount of $3,200 per month.

24. Ryan shall pay Amy $250 once a month, or $125 split into two payments on the 1st and 15th of each month beginning the month after the entry of the Decree of Divorce and ending after 5 months of payment.
