COMES NOW the above-named parties, the Petitioner, Adam S. Darby, represented by his attorney, Damon E. Morris of Mountain View Law Group, and the Respondent, Emily E. Darby, appearing pro se.

The parties have executed a Stipulation for Divorce, laying out the terms of their agreement as a full and complete resolution of all outstanding matters in this action, said Stipulation having previously been filed with the Court.

As the parties' agreement is binding, it is proper for the Court to now enter a Decree of Divorce based upon said agreement. The Court being fully advised in the premises and having made its Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, separately stated in writing:

NOW THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED:

DECREE OF DIVORCE

JURISDICTION

1. The Petitioner and Respondent were, for more than ninety (90) days prior to the commencement of this action, actual and bona fide residents of Weber County, State of Utah.

2. The Petitioner and Respondent were married on or about the 25th day of December 2013, in the State of Utah.

3. The parties separated on or about September 3, 2026.

4. This Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to Utah Code Ann. § 81-4-402(1).

GROUNDS

5. During the course of the marriage there have arisen between the parties irreconcilable differences, the parties having indicated by their words and conduct that the legitimate purposes of the marriage are no longer being pursued, preventing the parties from pursuing a viable marriage relationship and rendering continuation of the marriage undesirable.

6. The parties' attempts at reconciliation have been unsuccessful, and no expectation exists that the parties shall ever resume a meaningful marital relationship.

7. This marriage is no longer viable. The parties are hereby awarded a mutual Decree of Divorce based upon the grounds of irreconcilable differences pursuant to Utah Code Ann. § 81-4-405(1)(h), dissolving the bonds of matrimony between them, the same to become absolute and final upon entry by the Court.

CHILDREN

8. There have been no children born as a result of this marriage, and none are expected.

ALIMONY

9. Neither party is awarded alimony from the other for the past, present, or future, as both parties have the ability to meet their own needs.

RETIREMENT

10. During the course of the marriage, the parties acquired certain savings and retirement benefits. Each party is awarded their own separate retirement accounts in their own respective names, with the other party holding no interest therein.

REAL PROPERTY AND BUSINESS INTERESTS

11. The parties do not own any marital real property requiring division by the Court.

12. The parties do not have any business assets or interests requiring division by the Court.

PERSONAL PROPERTY

13. Respondent has already received all of the personal property to which she is entitled, consisting of the eight (8) bags of clothing and other personal items she removed from the marital residence at the time of separation. Petitioner is awarded all other personal property currently in his possession, free and clear of any claim from Respondent.

14. Petitioner shall hold any remaining personal property belonging to Respondent for thirty (30) days following entry of the Decree of Divorce. If Respondent has not made arrangements to retrieve said property within that time, the property shall be deemed abandoned, and Petitioner may dispose of it as he deems appropriate.

CELL PHONE

15. Petitioner shall continue to pay for the cell phone service currently used by Respondent for thirty (30) days following entry of the Decree of Divorce, after which Petitioner's obligation to pay for said service shall terminate and Petitioner may discontinue the account. Respondent may retain the cell phone device itself, but Petitioner shall have no further financial responsibility for the device or the service thereafter.

DEBTS, OBLIGATIONS AND FINANCIAL ACCOUNTS

16. Petitioner shall retain the marital debt currently titled solely in his name and shall be solely responsible for payment thereof.

17. Respondent shall be solely responsible for any fees or costs associated with her personal bankruptcy proceedings and for any back child support owed on behalf of her son from a prior relationship, and Petitioner shall have no responsibility for the same.

18. The parties do not have any other joint debts or obligations requiring division by the Court.

19. The parties are awarded the credit and financial accounts titled in their individual names. The parties do not have any remaining joint accounts, debts, or obligations.

20. The parties have acknowledged that all assets of the marital estate have been fully disclosed, and Respondent has agreed that the division of assets and debts set forth in the parties' Stipulation constitutes a full, fair, and complete division of the marital estate.

TAXES

21. The parties shall file separate income tax returns for the 2026 tax year and each year thereafter.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

22. Each party shall return to the other any personal documents in their possession belonging to the other party within thirty (30) days of the entry of the Decree of Divorce.

23. Within thirty (30) days of the entry of the Decree of Divorce, Respondent shall amend or remove any wording on any GoFundMe page or other public fundraising or social media post referencing Petitioner that contains unsubstantiated allegations against him.

24. In the event the parties need to communicate with one another, they shall do so through a mutually agreed-upon third party and shall not contact each other directly.

25. The parties are mutually restrained as follows:

a. from harassing, stalking, annoying, or otherwise bothering the other party, or from committing any domestic violence or abuse against the other party;

b. from driving by one another's residences except for a purpose outlined under the Decree of Divorce, entering one another's residences, or coming onto the property of one another's residence without express permission, or unless to fulfill the terms of their court orders;

c. from stalking, following, or surveilling the other; and

d. from posting negative comments about the other on social media.

26. Respondent shall have the right, if she so chooses, to be restored to her maiden name.

27. Each party shall, upon entry of the Decree of Divorce, promptly, at any time or times reasonably required, make, execute, and deliver to the other any further assurance, release, contract, document, and instrument necessary to implement the provisions of the Decree of Divorce.

ATTORNEY'S FEES AND COSTS

28. Each party shall pay their own attorney's fees and costs incurred in this matter.
