LEGAL CUSTODY AND PARENTING PLAN

11. It is in the best interest of the Parties' minor child that the Parties be awarded joint legal custody, subject to the following Parenting Plan:

Decisions Regarding Raising the Child

12. The Parties shall discuss with each other major decisions involving the child's discretionary health and medical care, discretionary educational decisions, participation in religious ceremonies, and attempt to come to an agreement. The parties shall consult with and share information from any subject matter experts, professionals who are knowledgeable about the issue, or who have a substantial connection to the child. After having obtained and exchanged all of the relevant information and received the opinion of any relevant subject matter experts, if the Parties are unable to agree, then the Parties shall attend mediation with each party paying 50% of the mediator's costs prior to bringing any issue to court. If the parties are unable to agree at mediation, then Petitioner may move forward with the presumptive final decision, subject to Respondent's ability to contest the decision with the court. If a party fails to respond to text communications about major issues within 48 hours, then it is presumed that the non-responding party agrees to the party's requests to resolve a major legal decision.

13. Day-to-day decisions regarding the care, control, and discipline of the child shall be made by the parent with whom the child is residing at the time.

14. Each parent shall have the right to make emergency medical decisions without consultation with the other parent and shall immediately inform the other parent of said emergency.

Education Plan

15. The child shall attend school near Petitioner's residence so long as she resides within 100 miles of her address at the time of the Stipulation, or unless the Court orders otherwise, or the parties agree otherwise in writing.

16. Both parties shall be listed for any emails given by teachers or respective school administrators. Both parties shall take the initiative to register for any online portal to access the children's information so neither parent will have to provide information that they can otherwise access themselves.

Parent-time Exchanges

17. The parents shall share transportation responsibilities for the minor child for non-midweek parent-time with the receiving parent providing the transportation to pick up the child from the other party's residence. For midweek parent-time, Sean will provide all transportation.

18. All parent time exchanges shall take place at school whenever possible. Any parent time exchanges which do not take place at school shall take place at the parties' residences curbside.

19. A stepparent, grandparent, or other responsible adult designated by the parent who is exercising parent time, may pick up the child for that parent's parent-time if the other parent is aware of the identity of the individual and the parent who is exercising their parent time will be with the child by 7 p.m.

20. Both parents shall be polite and cordial and behave maturely during exchanges of the child. There shall be no conflict or discussions that may lead to conflict during the exchange.

21. The parents shall also prepare the child, both mentally and physically, for each parent-time exchange by having the child packed and ready to leave on time, and by encouraging the child to spend time with the other parent.

Virtual Parent-Time

22. Both parents shall allow liberal telephone and other virtual communication (e.g. FaceTime, etc.) with the other parent and should encourage the child to call the other parent.

23. Each parent shall allow the minor child to contact the other parent at any time the minor child desires to have telephone or virtual contact.

24. These calls shall not be unreasonably denied by the parent who has the child, as long they do not conflict with existing plans or scheduled events, or interfere with the child's customary routine.

Communication Between Parties

25. Communication shall be in writing via text or email or other agreed upon coparenting app and only concerning the child, unless there is an emergency or time necessitates.

Communication shall be peaceful, civil, and non-abusive. The parties shall utilize a shared calendar for scheduling and notifying of child related events, schedules.

26. Neither party will ask or attempt in any way to have the child transfer messages between the Parties, whether verbal or written. The Parties shall contact each other directly via text message or phone to discuss personal or child-related issues between themselves and shall not involve the child.

27. Communication shall be between the Parties and not through third parties unless both Parties mutually agree otherwise.

Respect and Cooperation

28. The best interests of the children require the Parties to cooperate and treat each other with dignity and respect, especially in the presence of the child. Both parents shall use their best efforts to foster the development and maintenance of positive relationships with the child by encouraging affection and promoting respect and good feelings toward the other parent. In addition:

- a. Neither parent will attempt to harm or alienate the relationship the other parent has with the child in any form. Neither parent will make or allow another person or agent within their control or influence to make any disparaging comments about the other person or the other person's spouse or significant other in the presence of or within earshot of the child, including making posts on social media.
- b. The parents will cooperate and include each other as to their child's day care, health care, schooling, religious activities, organized sports, and other special activities and shall notify each other of their child's regular activities so that they may participate; and

32. Direct care by either parent as opposed to surrogate care shall be presumed to be in the child's best interest. As such each party is awarded the right of first refusal such that if one party cannot be present with the child during their respective parent time an overnight period or more, then that parent must offer that time to other parent prior to seeking surrogate care. Sleepovers for the child when the parent is available and in town shall not trigger the first right of refusal.

Relatives

33. Ongoing relationships between the child and relatives shall be encouraged and continued. Neither parent will interfere with relationships or visits between the child and relatives, including cousins, aunts, uncles, and grandparents, arbitrarily, in bad faith, or without sufficient cause.

34. Each party shall make reasonable efforts for the minor child to attend special family functions. Neither party shall abuse this privilege by making excessive requests or unreasonably withholding permission. Pursuant to Utah Code Ann. §81-6-213, there shall be an automatic adjustment to child support if and when a child becomes emancipated.

43. In order to collect child support, the obligee parent shall be entitled to mandatory income withholding relief pursuant to Utah Code Ann. §§81-6-106 and 81-6-107. Said income withholding procedure shall apply to existing and future payors of the non-custodial parent. All withheld income should be payable to the Office of Recovery Services, P.O. Box 45011, Salt Lake City, Utah, 84145-0011 until such time as the obligor party no longer owes child support to the obligee party. Should the obligee parent elect this income withholding procedure any administrative fees should be assessed according to statute.

44. Any child support payable by the obligor parent shall be paid on the first day of each month or at the election of the obligor parent by paying one-half of the amount due not later than the 5th day of each month and the remaining half not later than the 20th day of each month.

45. Under Utah Code Ann. §81-6-215(5), the Parties have a right to adjust the child support order by motion after three (3) years from the date of its entry if (1) upon review there is a difference of 10% or more between the amount previously ordered and the new amount of child support under the Utah Child Support Guidelines, calculated using the appropriate child support worksheet; (2) the difference is not of a temporary nature; and (3) the amount previously ordered does not deviate from the child support guidelines. Under Utah Code Ann. §62A-11-306.2, if a child receives TANF benefits at the time an adjustment is sought, the Office of Recovery Services should review the order, and if appropriate, move the court to adjust the amount.

temporary nature. In a proceeding to modify an existing award, consideration of natural or adoptive children other than those in common to both Parties may be applied to mitigate an increase in the child support award, but may not be applied to justify a decrease in the award.

premium amount by the number of persons covered under the policy and multiplying the result by the number of minor children in this case who are covered by such a policy.

54. If, at any point in time, the dependent children covered by the health or dental insurance plans of both parents, the health or dental insurance plan of Petitioner should be primary coverage for the dependent child, and the health or dental insurance plan of Respondent should be secondary coverage for the dependent child.
