The parties acknowledge that this provision constitutes a deviation from Utah Code § 81-6-208 and agree that the deviation is fair, reasonable, and supported by the overall terms of the stipulation and Settlement Agreement.

a. Pursuant to Utah Code § 81-6-208, the parties shall each be responsible for fifty percent (50%) of all reasonable and necessary uninsured medical, dental, orthodontic, vision, counseling, prescription, deductible, and copayment expenses incurred on behalf of the minor children and actually paid by either party.

c. Division of Retirement Benefits. Except as otherwise provided herein, each party shall receive one-half (½) of the marital portion of the retirement accounts identified above, together with all gains, losses, earnings, interest, dividends, and appreciation or depreciation attributable to that awarded share from the date of entry of the Decree of Divorce until the accounts are segregated or transferred. The parties represent that no withdrawals or distributions have been made from the above retirement accounts during the one-year period preceding the filing of the Petition for Divorce. If it is determined that either party withdrew or transferred retirement funds during that period without the other party's knowledge or consent, the other party shall be entitled to one-half (½) of the amount withdrawn, unless otherwise agreed in writing.

d. Preparation of QDRO'S. Moody Brown Law shall prepare the necessary Qualified Domestic Relations Order(s) ("QDROs") and any other retirement transfer documents required to effectuate the division of the retirement accounts. The parties acknowledge that, where permitted by the applicable plan administrators and governing law, the retirement accounts need not each be divided equally, provided that the combined transfers result in each party receiving the total value to which he or she is entitled under the stipulation . Accordingly, the preparer is authorized to utilize the fewest number of QDROs and other transfer documents reasonably necessary to accomplish the agreed-upon equal division of the retirement accounts.

e. Cooperation; Statements; Fees. Within fifteen (15) days after entry of the Decree of Divorce, Joshua shall provide the preparer with account statements reflecting the balances of the retirement accounts as of the date of entry of the Decree. The parties shall equally share the costs of preparing the QDRO(s), other required transfer documents, and any processing or administrative fees charged by the plan administrators. Both parties shall promptly execute all documents reasonably necessary to complete the division of the retirement accounts. Until all transfers have been completed, neither party shall withdraw, transfer, pledge, borrow against, encumber, or otherwise dispose of any portion of the retirement accounts except as permitted by the stipulation or required by law.

f. Preservation of Retirement Benefits Pending Division. Joshua is enjoined from withdrawing, transferring, pledging, or borrowing such benefits until an entry and acceptance of all appropriate QDROs by Plan Administrators. In the event that Joshua receives any of the benefits awarded to Norma from these accounts as indicated within this paragraph, he will receive that benefit in the form of a constructive trust for Norma, and Joshua is ordered to pay the benefit directly to Norma within thirty days of its receipt.

MUTUAL RESTRAINT

23. Joshua and Norma shall be restrained from speaking derogatorily about the other parent or speaking to the children about the issues in this case, or from attempting to influence the children's preference regarding custody or parent time which would tend to diminish the love and affection of the children for the other parent. Joshua and Norma shall be mutually restrained from harassing, annoying, or otherwise bothering the other party. Joshua and Norma shall be mutually restrained from allowing third parties to do what they themselves are prohibited from doing under this paragraph, and shall have the affirmative duty to use his or her best efforts to prevent third parties from such violation, or will remove the children from such circumstances.

24. Neither party shall use the other party's name, likeness, image, identification, or credit of the other party to obtain credit, open an account for service, to post to websites such as Facebook or other social media.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

25. Former Name. Norma shall be restored to her maiden name of Norma Isela Carreon if she so desires. This Court shall enter an Order of Name Change if necessary.

26. Attorney Fees and Litigation Costs. The parties will waive any claims they may have against the other party for reimbursement for attorneys fees paid on behalf of the other party. Except for attorney fees and litigation costs previously paid by either party, whether on his or her own behalf or on behalf of the other party, each party shall be solely responsible for his or her own attorney fees and litigation costs incurred in this action. Any attorneys fee currently owed or owed in the future are the responsibility of the party who incurred or incurs said fees.

27. Neither party is allowed to use the other's likeness, picture, name, identification, or credit for personal gain, such as obtaining credit, opening accounts, or acquiring services in order to prevent one party from exploiting the other's identity or financial standing post-divorce. The parties are restrained from making public comments, sharing posts, or posting photos about each other or the divorce proceedings on social media platforms such as Facebook, Instagram, Snapchat, etc. in order to protect the privacy of both parties and avoid any public airing of grievances or details about divorce. Each party will return any journals, diaries or other private information of the other party within five days of the signing of the stipulation and will not copy or retain copies of any private information of the other party. Within five days of the signing of the stipulation both parties will permanently destroy any photos, videos, or other media of the other party in any nude or sexually explicit or otherwise compromising position or situation.

Neither party will contact for the purpose of disparagement nor disparage the other party to any employer or potential employer.

28. Both parties will sign whatever documents are necessary to transfer title and quit claim deeds or any other documents necessary that are outlined in the Decree of Divorce and are necessary to implement the Decree of Divorce.

29. Resolution. Except for exigent circumstances or enforcement, the parties will participate in mediation prior to initiating litigation in the court.
