Jentry shall provide her dates for uninterrupted time no later than March 1st in odd years and March 15th in even years. Joni shall provide her dates for uninterrupted time no later than March 1st in even years and March 15th in odd years. Neither may schedule over the other parent's holiday or bookend it with regular or holiday parent time. If there is a conflict with dates, the parent that provided their dates first (according to the dates herein) shall have priority on the date in conflict. For 2026, Joni will provide her extended dates by April 5th and Jentry will provide her dates by April 20th.

22. If one of the parents is unavailable to care for the child overnight or longer, they shall give the other parent notice, and the other parent shall have the right of first refusal to care for the child during the time the other parent is unavailable. The notice of unavailability shall be provided within 24-hours of the parent knowing that they will not be available during their parent-time. The parent exercising the right of first refusal shall provide the transportation.

However, the right of first refusal shall not apply to sleepovers with friends/family when the parent exercising parent time is in town and available to care for the child.

Relocation

23. The 50/50 arrangement in this document will only work if the parties continue to live within twenty (20) miles of one another. If a party moves further than twenty (20) miles from the other party, or if they move out of the state, that party shall follow the notice requirements of U.C.A. § 81-9-209. In the case of such a move, if the parties cannot agree on a new parent-time or custody arrangement, either may seek direction from the Court via motion to the Court and/or petition to modify. The child shall remain with the other parent that did not relocate (providing for reasonable parent-time to the moving parent given the circumstances) until the matter is resolved.

PARENTING PLAN

Virtual Parent-Time

24. The child's request to call a parent shall be reasonably accommodated.

25. Each party shall have the right to call the child one time every two (2) days on the other parent's time between 7:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m..

26. Phone calls shall not be unreasonably denied by the residing parent. The parties shall have the phone calls take place through the Our Family Wizard App, so long as it is available and being used by the parties.

27. If a parent buys a cell phone for a child to use, the child may be able to use this phone to contact that parent. Either parent may restrict the phone's use but must provide a reasonable alternate means of contact so that the other parent's virtual parent-time is not restricted.

Decisions Regarding the Child

28. Day-to-day decisions regarding the care, control, and discipline of the child shall be made by the parent with whom the child resides at the time. Either parent may make emergency decisions regarding the health and safety of the child. However, if there is an emergency, the knowledgeable parent shall immediately notify the other parent and keep them informed until they can be incorporated into the situation fully.

29. The parties shall discuss the significant decisions regarding the child, including, but not limited to, the child's education, health care, and religious upbringing. If the parties cannot reach a mutual decision, both parents shall consult with the relevant professionals and attempt to find a resolution in good faith. If the parents still cannot agree, Jentry shall make the interim decision regarding school issues and Joni shall make the interim decision regarding medical issues, subject to each party's right to request mediation or court review.

Communication Between Parties

30. Neither party may attempt to have the child transfer verbal or written messages between the parties.

31. The parents shall communicate through Our Family Wizard for all non-emergency communications, calendaring, bill exchanges, and calls with the minor child. For emergencies only, the parents may use text or calls.

32. The parents shall respond in full to all parenting communications as swiftly as reasonably possible, but not longer than forty-eight (48) hours from when the communication was sent.

33. The parents shall provide the other parent with the full name and phone number of all third party caregivers to the other parent in advance. This is true for anyone facilitating or involved with pickups and drop offs as well.

Respect and Cooperation

34. Both parents shall recognize that the best interests of the child require them to cooperate and treat each other with dignity and respect, especially in the presence of the child. Both parents shall encourage affection and promote respect toward the other parent.

35. The parents shall be absolutely restrained from harassing, stalking, surveilling, abusing, or demeaning the other parent.

36. Neither parent may attempt to harm the relationship between a parent and the child. This includes making disparaging comments about the other parent or their family or allowing the child to be in the presence of anyone who does.

37. The parents shall be absolutely restrained from discussing this case, support, the other parent's life/relationships, or any other adult topics within range of the child.

38. Both parents shall ensure that the child does only age-appropriate activities including age-appropriate movies, media, video games, and internet. The parents shall ensure that the child is properly restrained while driving and take proper safety measures during all activities.

39. Both parents shall abide by all federal, state, and municipal laws while exercising parent-time. Both parents shall provide for appropriate room and space for the child. Both houses shall be maintained at or above minimum health and safety standards.

40. Both parents shall be responsible to maintain clothing, shoes, hygiene products, and other daily items for the child at their home so that the child does not need to pack a bag for exchanges. The clothing and shoes shall be appropriate in terms of size and weather for the child throughout the year. The parents shall return the items the other parent purchased within approximately a week. Neither parent may abrogate their duties to purchasing standard items for the child. Nor may either parent utilize this provision to harass or unreasonably bother the other parent.

41. Both parents shall adequately care for the child's hygiene including caring for his bathing, teeth cleaning, and following all recommendations of providers (including lotion and cortisone for his skin), which recommendations and prescriptions shall be provided to both parties.

42. Both parents shall ensure that the child has age-appropriate electronic restrictions at their homes. Both parents shall have full access to the child's phone, email, and all apps, including all usernames and passwords. They shall utilize this access to provide parental controls and oversight into any online activity and to actively monitor such activity while he is in their care.

43. Each parent shall be fully responsible for the child on their time including all sick days from school, school picks ups and drop offs, forgotten items for school, homework, agreed upon activities, agreed upon sports, appointments, and play dates. While the parents may help one another as they individually decide to do so, neither parent may disproportionately abrogate their parenting duties to the other parent on their time.

School

44. The parents shall cooperate to determine the child's school selection. If the parents cannot make a decision, Jentry's residence shall be considered the child's residence for school selection purposes.

45. Both parents shall be listed as contacts at the school, and both shall have full access to all school records and electronic portals.

46. The parties shall equally share fees, costs of materials, and agreed upon activity costs associated with public school.

47. The child's daycare shall be as the parties agree. If they do not agree, the child shall attend Kindercare in Sandy for daycare. The parties shall each pay half of the cost of all of the work-related daycare that is used for the child. Therefore, each party shall provide proof of their daycare expense to the other party within thirty (30) days of incurring the cost and the other party shall reimburse half within thirty (30) days of receiving the notice.

Contact Information and Records

48. Each party shall keep the other immediately informed as to residence address, home, work and cell phone numbers, e-mail addresses, and any other important contact information, including how to be reached in the event of an emergency.

49. Updated contact information including new address, new phone number, and new email shall be exchanged within twenty-four (24) hours of any change.

50. Both parties shall both have access to all of the child's medical records, activity information, and school documents. Both parties shall have the burden to procure such documents on their own if they are able to do so. If they are not able to do so without the assistance of the other parent, then the other parent shall provide whatever assistance is reasonably necessary to ensure that the other parent has access to the information.

School Functions and Social Activities

51. Both parents shall be entitled to participate in all school functions, performances, and sporting events for the child so long as that parent is well mannered and not entering into any argument with the other parent nor any other person at the event. The parents shall allow the child to move freely around the event as the child wishes, shall encourage the child to visit with the other parent freely, and shall not otherwise cause any conflict during the event.

Third Parties

52. Both parties shall take any and all steps necessary to ensure that whomever they cohabitate with or remarry does not interfere with the other parent's parent-time or the provisions of this document.

53. The parent exercising parent-time is responsible for limiting third parties' actions that violate these provisions or else removing the child from the exposure.

Discipline

54. Neither party nor any third party may use corporal punishment on the child. The parties shall not yell at nor demean the child in a manner that is not calculated to educate the child. Any discipline shall be reasonably aimed at helping the child learn and grow from the experience.

Travel

55. For emergency purposes, whenever the child travels away from their residence overnight, the parent shall provide the following information to the other parent: an itinerary of travel dates; destinations; places where the minor child or traveling parent can be reached; and the name and telephone number of an available third person who would be knowledgeable of the minor child's location. Such notice shall be provided as soon as the travel is arranged.

Contempt

56. This parenting plan shall be incorporated into the orders in this case. The parties shall understand that failure by either party to comply with this parenting plan may result in a finding of contempt by the Court and therefore may result in the Court awarding attorney fees, court costs, fines, changes in custody, jail time, and other remedies.

CHILD SUPPORT

57. Pursuant to Utah Code § 81-6-202 et seq., child support shall be paid as follows:

1. Jentry's income for child support purposes is $11,247 per month and Joni's income is $11,225 per month. Based on the custody arrangement of the parties with Jentry having 182 overnights (as the higher earning spouse) per year and Joni having 183 overnights (as the lower earning spouse) per year, and Joni has a separate monthly child support obligation of $900.00 per month for her other children, Jentry's child support would be $53. Jentry's child support shall be applied directly to Joni's portion of the daycare costs.

2. Unless the Court orders otherwise, support for a child terminates at the time (1) the child becomes 18 years of age, or has graduated from high school during the child's normal and expected year of graduation, whichever occurs later, or (2) the child dies, marries, becomes a member of the armed forces of the United States, or is emancipated.
3. The monthly child support shall be paid one half on or before the 5th day of each month, and the other half on or before the 20th day of each month, unless the custodial parent uses the Office of Recovery Services to collect support. Child support due and not paid on or before the 5th day of the month shall be considered delinquent on the 6th day of the month. Child support due and not paid on or before the 20th day of the month shall be delinquent on the 21st day of the month.
4. The parties shall have a right to adjust this child support order by motion after three years from the date of its entry if (1) upon review there is a difference of 10% or more between the amount previously ordered and the new amount of child support under the Utah child support guidelines, calculated using the appropriate child support worksheet, (2) the difference is not of a temporary nature, and (3) the amount previously ordered does not deviate from the child support guidelines. If the child receives TANF funds at the time an adjustment is sought, the Office of Recovery Services will review the order, and if appropriate, move the court to adjust the amount.

5. The parties shall have a right to modify this child support order at any time by petition if there has been a substantial change in circumstances because of: (i) material changes in custody; (ii) material changes in the relative wealth or assets of the parties; (iii) material changes of 30% or more in the income of a parent; (iv) material changes in the employment potential and ability of a parent to earn; (v) material changes in the medical needs of the child; or (vi) material changes in the legal responsibilities of either parent for the support of others, and, the change in (i) through (vi) results in a 15% or more difference between the amount previously ordered and the new amount of child support, calculated using the appropriate child support worksheet, and the difference is not of a temporary nature. In a proceeding to modify an existing award, consideration of natural or adoptive children other than those in common to both parties may be applied to mitigate an increase in the child support award, but may not be applied to justify a decrease in the award.

58. The parties shall equally share the costs of the child's extracurriculars that they agree upon in writing. Neither party may unreasonably withhold their agreement for the child to participate in reasonably priced activities that the child chooses. Both parents shall work to agree upon reasonable extra-curricular activities that the minor child expresses interest in.

HEALTH INSURANCE AND MEDICAL CARE

59. Pursuant to Utah Code § 81-6-208, it is reasonable and proper that:

6. Whichever party has the best health insurance available to them shall provide health insurance for the child. Currently, both parties are covering the insurance for the child and shall continue to do so as long as it is reasonably available to them.
7. Both parties shall share equally all out-of-pocket costs of the premium actually paid by a parent for the child's portion of the insurance. The calculation shall be a per capita share of the policy.
8. The parties shall share equally all medical, dental, therapeutic, orthodontic, and other medical needs for the minor child. Both parties shall share equally all reasonable and necessary uninsured medical expenses, including deductibles and co-payments, incurred for the minor child and actually paid by the parties.
9. The parent who incurs medical expenses for the minor child shall provide written verification of the cost and payment of the medical expenses to the other parent within thirty (30) days of payment. The reimbursement shall be made within thirty (30) days of receiving notice.
10. A parent incurring medical expenses shall be denied the right to receive credit for the expenses or to recover the other parent's share of the expenses if that parent fails to comply with the Subparagraph "d" above.
11. If the child is double covered, then the parties shall each pay their own premiums.

12. The parties shall exchange insurance information as soon as it becomes available or as soon as it changes so that both parents may utilize whatever insurance the child has access to. At a minimum, both parents shall exchange any insurance information by January 31st of each year.

13. If a stepparent covers the insurance, that policy shall be considered under this section to be the parents' insurance.

MEDIATION

60. If there is a non-emergent dispute between the parties, the parties shall attend mediation prior to bringing the issue to the Court. Each party shall attend the mediation and participate in good faith; and mediation may be conducted virtually. If the parties are unable to agree upon a mediator, the party requesting mediation shall arrange for a mediator through the Administrative Office of the Courts. A written, signed record shall be prepared of any agreement reached in mediation and a copy provided to each party. The parties shall share the cost of the mediator equally. A dispute may not be presented to the Court in this matter without a good faith attempt by both parties to first resolve the issue through mediation. However, if there is a need for decisions before the process of mediation may proceed, the party may file the motion or petition with the Court so long as mediation is scheduled contemporaneously therewith. In addition, this provision does not prohibit either party from seeking emergency relief.

EXECUTING DOCUMENTS

61. The parties shall sign and fully execute whatever documents are necessary for the implementation of the provisions of this document. If a party fails to execute a document within sixty (60) days of the signing of the Stipulation, the other party may bring a motion to enforce at the expense of the disobedient party and seek that the Court appoint some other person to execute the document pursuant to Rule 70 of the Utah Rules of Civil Procedure. Any document executed pursuant to Rule 70 shall have the same effect as if executed by the disobedient party. The Court shall order attorney fees and costs for the compliant party.

COOPERATION

62. The parties shall cooperate with the other, through counsel or otherwise, to effect changes in titles to property to be divided herein, to change the names and responsibilities for payment upon the charge accounts and other debts divided herein, and to cooperate in each and every other way necessary or proper to ensure the Court's orders are carried out in every detail. Failure to cooperate may constitute contempt and the Court may order a non-cooperating party to pay attorney fees, pay a fine, pay damages, pay interest, and serve jail time, among other remedies.

63. Each party shall hold the other harmless from any award they receive in this document.

ATTORNEY FEES

64. Each party shall pay their own attorney fees through the signing of the Stipulation and reasonable paperwork to finalize the case. In addition, the prevailing party to an action for breach of a term of the Stipulation or order may be entitled to his or her attorney fees and costs.

FINALIZATION OF THE CASE

65. The parties shall work together cooperatively via email to finalize the divorce case. Ms. Hawkes will prepare the paperwork for the case substantively based on the parties'

Stipulation. The parties will follow the timelines in UTAH R. CIV. P. 7(j) in presenting proposed drafts and approving them and filing them with the Court for ratification if no response is received.

75. Joni shall have the right to change her last name to “Janisyn”, if she so chooses.
