c. There are no pending cases with the Department of Child and Family Services. Neither party is aware of any other proceedings that could affect the court proceedings.

Pursuant to Rule 100 of the Utah Rules of Civil Procedure, neither party is aware of any other proceedings, filed in a court of law or governmental agency, concerning the parties or the child (including without limitation cases involving child custody, child support, parent-time, criminal charges, delinquency or a protective order).

CHILD CUSTODY AND PARENT PLAN

11. Legal Custody: The parties shall be awarded joint legal custody of the parties' minor child.

12. Both parties shall have the authority to make routine decisions regarding the child's day-to-day activities when the child is in his or her care.

13. Regardless of the allocation of decision-making, either parent may make emergency decisions affecting the health or safety of the child when the child is with that parent. A parent who makes an emergency decision shall share the decision with the other parent immediately or as soon as reasonably possible and by any means possible i.e. phone, call, email.

14. Decision-making: All major decisions concerning the child including health, education (except location), religion, daycare, medical or dental treatment, therapy and general welfare shall be discussed between the parties. Further, the parties will use the following decision-making procedure:

- a. Identify the issue;
- b. Develop possible solutions; and
- c. Choose the most appropriate and sensible solution that considers the needs and interests of everyone involved.

15. Tie-Breaking Procedure: Under the terms of the above paragraph, the parties will discuss major decisions together focusing on objective criteria and facts and involve any professional who may be of assistance. If the parties are unable to reach an agreement, the parties agree to follow the advice of a professional/expert/academic teacher, counselor, and/or principal. In the event the issue does not have a professional involved (i.e. tattoos, piercings, vehicles, extracurricular participation, etc.) and the parties disagree, the parties shall submit the issue to mediation to be scheduled within 7 days from the date there is an impasse on the issue. The cost of mediation will be divided equally between the parties. If the parties are unable to reach an agreement, either party may submit the issue to the Court.

16. Education Plan: Unless otherwise mutually agreed in writing, the child will continue attending the school he is currently enrolled in; otherwise, if the parents disagree on where to enroll the child, they will follow the dispute resolution paragraph herein.

17. Legal Custody Recognition: Both parties shall be listed as emergency contacts at any institution which the child attends, and each party shall have an affirmative duty to ensure that the other party is also listed.

18. Both parties shall be listed as a legal custodial party with any institution which the child attends, whether school, church, daycare, or other, and shall be deemed to have all the rights that a party with legal custody possesses, including the right to make an emergency decision pertaining to the child's health, safety, and education.

19. No institutional employee or officer, whether school, church, daycare, or other, shall construe one party's rights to be greater than the rights of the other party.

20. No institutional employee or officer, whether school, church, daycare, or other, will ever be deemed to have rights and authority greater than the rights and authority of the parties.

21. Both parties shall have direct access to all records of the child including, but not limited to, school, medical, dental, and psychological records, and this Parenting Plan shall constitute a release to allow each parent access to all records of the child unless a protective order or other order is in place prohibiting the access. The parents will make arrangements with the minor child's schools for each parent to receive a copy of the child's report cards, school calendars, etc.

22. Physical Custody: The parties shall be awarded joint physical custody of the parties' minor child.

23. As such, parent-time with the child shall be in accordance with Utah Code Ann. § 81-9-305, with the parties rotating a week on week off schedule as follows:

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesda	Thursday	Friday	Saturday

26. Extended Parent-time: The parties shall each have two (2) weeks of extended parent-time each year during the child's summer break when school is not in session. The parties shall elect which two (2) weeks of consecutive, uninterrupted extended parent-time they will be exercising, by submitting it to the other parent in writing. Extended summer parent-time scheduling priority shall be determined as follows:

a. Odd years: Ryan shall provide notice of his elected extended summer parent-time to Jaime by April 1st and Jaime shall provide notice of her elected extended parent time to Ryan by April 15th.

b. Even years: Jaime shall provide notice of her extended parent-time elected to Ryan by April 1st and Ryan shall provide notice of his elected extended parent-time to Jaime by April 15th.

c. In the event that both parents fail to provide notice of their elected summer parent-time, the first parent to provide notice may designate their summer parent-time schedule has priority.

d. If a parent intends to interrupt the other parent's parent-time, that parent shall provide notification to the other parent within 10 days prior the day on which the interrupted extended parent-time.

28. Changes may not be made to the parent-time schedule as stated above, except if the parties agree in writing to a deviation or in the event a conflict arises with the parent-time schedule, the following order of precedence shall be applied when determining which parent is entitled to parent-time:

- a. The holiday schedule for Mother's Day or Father's Day;
- b. The holiday schedule for the child's birthday, unless a parent is exercising uninterrupted extended parent-time and takes the child away from that parent's residence during the uninterrupted extended parent-time;
- c. The holiday schedule for any holiday that is not Father's Day, Mother's Day, or the child's birthday;
- d. Extended summer parent-time; and
- e. The schedule for weekday or weekend parent-time.

29. If a holiday falls on a regularly scheduled school day, the parent exercising parent-time shall be responsible for the child's attendance at school for that school day.

30. Right of First Refusal: Each parent shall have the first option to provide care for the child over any other third party if the parent responsible for the child is not available overnight (defined as 9pm to 6am) during their custodial time and the other parent is personally available and willing to provide the care and the transportation.

31. Parental care is presumed to be better care for the minor child than surrogate care. The parties shall work together to afford each other the opportunity to provide child care prior to a surrogate in the event a surrogate provider is needed.

32. Child care arrangements that existed during the marriage are preferred as are child care arrangements with nominal or no charge.

33. If surrogate care is required, the parent utilizing the surrogate care will provide the other parent with the provider's name, current address, and telephone number of the other parent at least 2 hours in advance of the surrogate care being utilized.

34. Transportation of Child: Parent-time exchanges shall occur as agreed upon by the parties or as follows:

35. The parties shall utilize school-to-school exchanges when possible. If school is not session for that day, the parent beginning their parent-time will provide the transportation from the other parent's home or other agreed upon location at 8am.

a. The parents shall limit in-person communication during parent-time exchanges.

b. The parties shall adopt the 15-minute-rule, meaning if a party is late by fifteen (15) minutes or longer for a parent-time exchange, the other does not need to wait and the unavailable party shall make alternative arrangements to pick up the minor child, accommodating the other party.

c. A stepparent, grandparent, or other responsible adult designated by the receiving parent may pick up the child for parent-time if the other parent is aware of the identity of the individual and the receiving parent will be with the child within two (2) hours of their parent-time.

d. Notice of the third party must be provided to the other parent within 24 hours prior to the pickup occurring.

36. Overnight Travel/Vacation: If either party desires to take the minor child out of the State of Utah overnight or anywhere overnight, he or she shall inform the other party 14 days in advance, unless it is an emergency i.e. a family death, and 30 days in advance for all international travel and provide the other party with the following information:

- a. An itinerary of travel dates;
- b. Destinations;
- c. Places where the child or traveling parent can be reached; and
- d. The name and telephone number of an available third person who would be knowledgeable of the child's location.

37. The parties shall cooperate in obtaining a passport and signing documentation for the minor child if it is required for travel. In the event that the parties secure passports on behalf of the minor child, they shall remain in Jaime's possession when not in use.

38. Communication/Exchange of Information: The child shall not be requested to carry messages between the parents. The parties shall communicate with each other via a co-parenting communication application, and by telephone during an emergency. The parties will sign up for an agreed co-parenting application within 7 days of signing the Stipulation. If the parties are unable to agree, they will use Our Family Wizard with each parent being responsible for the application fees.

39. The parties shall share all information about the child regarding special events, homework assignments, parent/teacher meetings, report cards, medical events and prescriptions that the other parent may not have access to. Information relating to the child shall be provided to the other parent as soon as it is practical.

40. Differences in Parenting Styles: It is probable that differences in parenting styles have and will occur. To that extent, the parties shall focus their attention on conversations with the child rather than each other and encourage the child to understand that differences occur and attempt to adapt to those differences without suggesting that the other parent is better or worse. The parties shall respect the other parents' right to establish an independent life with the child as long as it is not detrimental.

41. Consistency in Raising the Child: There will undoubtedly be inconsistencies in the way each parent creates ground rules and imposes discipline on the child. Should the child complain about the other parent's rules, the explanation shall be that the child or child must resolve the issue with the other parent. This way parents do not become allies with the child in that regard. If it is perceived by one parent that the discipline of the other parent is inappropriate, the discussion shall be had between the parents without going through the child.

42. Extended Family Relationships: The parties shall encourage the child to maintain relationships with their grandparents and other relatives. Each parent shall support the child in continuing those relationships. This may include permitting the child to attend special events with extended family that may interfere with regularly scheduled parent-time.

43. Maintaining Contact When Child is with The Other Parent: Regardless of which parent the child is with at any given time, both parents shall allow communication between the child and the other parent at reasonable hours and for reasonable durations. The child shall not be restricted from contacting the absent parent as they desire, however, they shall not be compelled to do so.

44. Neither party shall interfere with the other party's virtual parent time or electronic contact as (and if) initiated by the child. All communication between a parent and the minor child will be uncensored, unmonitored and unrecorded. Neither party will coach the child nor allow third parties to interfere or otherwise sidestep their own restrictions.

45. Relocation: If either of the parties intends to relocate, the relocating parent shall give the other parent 60 days' written notice along with his/her new contact information. If the move is more than a 45-minute drive away from the moving parent's current location, then each party shall submit a proposed amended Parenting Plan to take into account the proposed relocation and attempt to resolve the issue on their own. If the parties are unable to reach an agreement, they shall resolve disputes pursuant to the dispute resolution process outlined herein.

46. Extracurricular Activities and Sports: The parties shall encourage and support the child's participation in extracurricular activities and sports. The child shall, without written stipulation of the parties, be able to participate in all of the sports he is registered in and have participated in during the past 12 months. The parties shall facilitate participation in scheduled previously agreed upon in writing extracurricular activities. If the custodial parent is unable to take the child to the previously agreed upon in writing extracurricular activity, it is in the best interest of the child to allow the non-custodial parent to transport the child to the activity. If the custodial parent is unable to take the child to the activity, they shall communicate that information as soon as is practical (at least 24 hours in advance if possible) if they are unable to take the child.

47. Neither parent shall schedule or promote to the child events or activities that fall on the other parent's parent-time without first obtaining permission from that parent in the following manner: The requesting parent will notify the other parent of the event or activity and discuss with them the benefits of the child's attendance prior to discussing it with the child. If the other parent has something scheduled or decides that the child cannot participate in the event or activity for any reason, the requesting parent will abide by that decision and not attempt to influence the other parent through the child.

48. Disparaging Remarks: Each of the parties shall refrain from communicating with or about the other to family members, friends, school officials, medical providers, employers, community members, etc. in demeaning, disparaging or disrespectful terms and shall prevent third parties, and the child from doing so as well.

49. Information Sharing: Both parents shall keep the other informed as to residence address, home, work, and cell phone numbers, email addresses and any other important contact information, including how to be reached in the event of an emergency. If either parent changes any of his or her contact information as indicated above, that parent must notify the other parent in writing within 24 hours of the change. Both parents shall also provide their contact information to all third parties who are important in the child's life, such as day care providers, educators, doctors, dentists, and both parents shall be listed as emergency contacts with those providers.

50. Religious Affiliation: The parties shall support and respect the other's religious preferences and shall encourage the child's participation in religious activities with both parents. However, both parents are free to choose an appropriate religion to participate in with the child or are free to refrain from attending religious services during their parent time with the child.

51. Restraints Regarding Firearms: The parties shall ensure that the child is not allowed access to firearms without appropriate supervision. The parties shall ensure that all firearms in the parties' residences are secured in a safe and not accessible to a child.

52. Parent-Time Respect: Both parties shall comply with the parent-time schedules unless they mutually agree to alter the schedules in writing.

53. Notwithstanding the above provision, both parents shall be flexible in making temporary adjustments in their parent-time schedules for unexpected situations. The parent seeking an adjustment shall give the other parent as much advance notice as possible (at least 24 hours except in an emergency). The other party shall use his or her discretion in allowing for an adjustment but not unreasonably refuse.

54. Both parents shall give special consideration to make the child available to attend family functions including funerals, weddings, family reunions, religious holidays, important ceremonies, and other significant events in the life of the child or in the life of either parent which may inadvertently conflict with the parent-time schedules.

55. The parties shall notify the other when a child is ill. Prior to the exchange of the child who is ill, the parties shall discuss regular parent-time and shall reasonably accommodate the sick child.

If the parties cannot agree, regular parent-time shall not be affected. A parent shall not use the child's illness to frustrate parent-time.

56. When the child is ill and a party is required to miss work to stay home with the child, the parties shall cooperate and coordinate to share the responsibility of caring for the child.

57. Safe Environment and Stability: The parties shall maintain safe and appropriate sleeping and living accommodations for the minor child.

58. The parties shall work together in a reasonable manner to accommodate each other and to provide the minor child with consistency and stability.

59. The parties shall ensure that the child receives regular hygiene when in their respective care, including bathing, clean clothing, etc.

60. The parties shall exchange prescribed medications, if applicable, for the child when they exchange the child (via school backpack, daycare, personal delivery, or whatever other means the parties agree to in writing) so that both parties may properly medicate the child while in their care. Each of the parties shall facilitate, help and promote the taking of medication or other regimes of therapy for the child as prescribed by a doctor or therapist.

61. The parties shall keep alcohol, prescription medication, and firearms in a secure location when the minor child is in his or her care.

62. To facilitate better communication between the parties regarding the care that the child is receiving they shall agree to provide the following updates: Within 3 hours of an appointment for a child, the parent with the child will provide an update to the other parent about the appointment, the purpose of the appointment, what was discussed with the provider, the recommendations of the provider, and any medications prescribed and/or suggested for treatment.

63. The parties shall abide by the recommendations and counsel of the child's healthcare providers with respect to matters that affect the child's health and well-being.

64. Both parties shall consult with each other if either of them becomes aware that the child is experiencing difficulties in school, emotional problems, or any other issues that they would wish to be apprised of if the parties' roles were reversed.

65. Either party may check out the minor child from school during their parent-time days. However, in accordance with Utah Code Ann. §81-9-202(6) (as amended), regular school hours may not be interrupted for school-age children for the exercise of parent-time by either party unless otherwise agreed to by the parties in writing.

Restraints Regarding Drugs and Intoxication

66. Neither parent shall use illegal substances, abuse prescription medication, consume prescription medication that was not prescribed to him/her, smoke or vape in the presence of the child, and/or drink alcohol in excess, while exercising parent-time. Neither parent shall be intoxicated, high, or hungover while in the presence of the children. Intoxication shall be defined by the legal blood alcohol limit of the state in which alcohol is consumed.

67. Neither party shall smoke tobacco or marijuana in the presence of the child.

68. The parties shall each take a hair follicle test on or before August 1, 2026 to establish a baseline. The baseline will be used only to establish a baseline and will not be used against the other party as a means to change parent-time. Each parent will arrange their own hair follicle test and pay for their own hair follicle test without seeking reimbursement from the other.

69. Thereafter, the other party may, once per annual quarter (defined as: January-March, April-June, July-September, October-December), request the other party take an urinalysis test for a 12 month period defined as August 1, 2026-August 1, 2027. If a party fails the urinalysis test then the 12 month period would restart from the day the dirty test results are received and would conclude after 12 months of clean test results are provided if they are requested. A dirty/failed test would also allow the other parent to request an additional urinalysis test within the quarter it was failed.

70. The party upon whom the request was made must comply, and the parties shall do as follows:

- a. The requesting party must set up and pay for the urinalysis test in the county where the other party is at the time.
- b. The requesting party must inform the other party in writing in advance of scheduling the urinalysis test that he or she is requesting the urinalysis drug test.
- c. The other party must submit to the urinalysis test within one business day.
- d. If the other party does not submit to the urinalysis test within one business day of the request being made, the test will be deemed a failed test unless a verified explanation for impossibility is provided.
- e. If the other party takes the urinalysis test and passes (the results are negative), nothing happens.
- f. If the other party fails the urinalysis test by failing to take the test or by taking the urinalysis test and failing (the results are positive), he or she must reimburse the requesting party within 30 days. The requesting party must provide a receipt for the test in writing to the other party within 5 days.

g. The results of all urinalysis tests must be sent to both parties and, if present, the guardian ad litem from the testing provider.

71. If a party fails the urinalysis test, the testing parent will forego the next week of parent-time to allow for a retest. If the retest is clean, parent-time will resume at the next scheduled parent-time.

72. At the conclusion of the 12 month testing period defined above as August 1, 2026-August 1, 2027 (unless the testing period resets), the parties will each take another hair follicle test on or before September 1, 2027. The parties will each pay for their own test. If a party fails the hair follicle test meant to conclude the drug-testing period, the hair follicle test shall also reset the testing period and extend it for an additional year.

Adjustments or Modifications

73. All permanent adjustments or modifications to this Parenting Plan shall be made in writing, signed by both parties, and filed with the Court. Temporary or minor changes can be made whenever the parties agree.

Violation of Parenting Plan

74. If either parent fails to comply with a provision of this parenting plan, the other parent's obligations under the parenting plan or final divorce decree shall not be affected.

75. If either party violates any terms of the Parenting Plan, once approved by the Court and, shall court action become necessary, the violating party may pay attorney's fees necessary to enforce this plan.

CHILD RELATED EXPENSES

Child Support

76. The Court shall order child support that is consistent with the child Support Obligation Worksheet for Joint Custody and the Uniform Child Support Schedule.

77. Child support shall begin upon order of the court.

78. Jaime is currently employed full-time through Maritz, Plume Event Co & PCSF, LLC and earns supplemental income through doTERRA. Between these two forms of income, Jaime earns a gross monthly income of approximately $9,256.00.

79. Ryan is currently employed full-time through Wells Fargo and earns a gross monthly income of approximately $8,772.00.

80. According to the parties' incomes and the Uniform Child Support Guidelines, using a joint physical custody worksheet, with the parties exercising 50/50 custody, that one party would pay the other $6. Given this de minimis amount, no direct child support is currently owed by either party.

81. The parties are deviating from the child support guidelines for the following reasons:

- a. The parties have relatively equal standards of living.
- b. The parties are similarly situated financially.
- c. The parties earn substantially similar incomes.
- d. Neither party needs the $6 to provide for the minor child.
- e. Based on the above agreed-upon factors which are based on the deviation guidelines in UCA § 81-6-202, the Court finds that a downward deviation to $0 for child support is appropriate.

Child-Related Expenses

82. Medical/Dental Expenses. Pursuant to Utah Code Ann. § 81-6-208, the parties shall jointly provide and maintain health/medical insurance for the benefit of the child. Presently the child receives health insurance from Ryan's plan through work. So long as that is available, that is the insurance the parties shall utilize for the child. Shall Ryan's health insurance become unavailable, the party able to obtain health/medical insurance through their employment or other business undertakings at the most reasonable cost shall obtain coverage and the other party shall be liable for the payment of one-half of the cost of said insurance for the child's portion of that insurance. The child's portion shall be determined on a pro rata share of the premium actually paid by a parent.

83. If the child is covered by the insurance of both parents, Ryan's insurance shall be designated as primary and Jaime's insurance shall be designated as secondary unless the parties agree otherwise.

84. The parties shall share equally all reasonable and necessary uninsured medical, dental, orthodontic, and optical expenses, including deductibles and co-payments, incurred for the minor child and actually paid by the parties. The parent who incurs reasonable or necessary medical expenses shall provide written verification of the cost and payment of medical expenses to the other parent within thirty (30) days of payment.

85. The parent who incurs medical expenses may be denied the right to receive credit for the expenses, or to recover the other parent's share of the expenses, if that parent fails to provide written verification and payment within thirty (30) days of payment.

86. The parent who incurs the medical expenses shall be reimbursed within thirty (30) days of the verification of the cost and payment to the other parent.

87. The parties shall cooperate in exchanging all claim forms and statements to coordinate the payment of all medical and dental expenses, as set forth herein.

88. The parent who maintains health insurance shall provide verification of coverage to the other parent, upon initial enrollment of the child, and thereafter on or before January 2nd of each calendar year. Additionally, the parent shall provide written notice and a new insurance card if applicable to the other parent of any change of insurance carrier, premium, or benefits within thirty (30) days of any change.

89. Education Expenses: Both parties shall be equally responsible for any and all of the child's educational related expenses. Said expenses include, but are not limited to, enrollment fees, school clothing, school supplies, any tutoring related expenses, field trip expenses, and any school related activities. This excludes private school tuition, admission, and uniforms unless otherwise agreed to in writing between the parties.

90. Extracurricular Activities and Sports Expenses: The parties shall equally split the cost of any activities or equipment costs (up to $500 each per person per activity) that are incurred for an activity that is agreed to in writing by both parties. The payment notification and reimbursement schedule shall be as outlined in the medical insurance/expenses section above.

91. Car Insurance: When the child is able to legally drive, the parent who is able to apply for the child pursuant to the insurance company shall be responsible for obtaining car insurance for the minor child and both parties shall split the cost for any and all fees associated with the child's car insurance equally. The payment notification and reimbursement schedule shall be as outlined in the medical insurance/expenses section above.

92. Cell Phones: Ryan placed the child on a family plan. The parties shall split all reasonable costs regarding the child's cell phones equally. The payment notification and reimbursement schedule shall be as outlined in the medical insurance/expenses section above.

a. The parties shall enable parental controls on all electronic devices the minor child has access to or possesses. The parties will both have access to the parental controls (usernames and passwords) at all times. If a password changes, the parties agree to exchange the information within 24 hours of the change.
