LEGAL CUSTODY AND PARENTING PLAN

7. The parties shall be awarded joint legal custody of the minor child, and in connection with this shall abide by the terms of the following Parenting Plan:

- a. We are both dedicated parents who, although will be divorced, desire to create a co-parenting relationship for the benefit of our child.
- b. We agree to focus on the needs and interests of our child ahead of our own. We desire to give our children the opportunity to have a meaningful relationship with both of us.
- c. Any specific time-sharing schedule must focus on meeting our child's emotional needs, as much as possible.
- d. We agree to establish and maintain good communication with each other and to establish a cooperative working relationship as parents.

TRANSPORTATION

- e. Unless otherwise agreed by the parties, we will be responsible for transportation when receiving the child for parent-time, with exchanges taking place at the parties' homes or another agreed-upon location. In other words, each of us will pick up the child from the other parent to start our respective parent-time. We will allow the child to drive themselves for parent-time if they have a registered and insured vehicle and a current driver's license. Parent-time exchanges will be curbside with each party remaining in their vehicle. We will promptly pick up the child for our parent-time and will not arrive more than 5 minutes prior to the scheduled exchange time.
- f. We will be polite and cordial and behave maturely during exchanges of the child. We will also prepare the child, both mentally and physically, for each parent-time

- j. Should a parent buy a personal cell phone for the child to use while with the other parent, only the parent who supplied the cell phone has the right to take away the cell phone from the child; otherwise, the cell phone must go where the child goes, and the child must be permitted to use the cell phone when the child want to call one of the parents, if reasonable. However, we both have the right to restrict the child's use of the cell phone to only calling the other parent
