Legal Custody (decision making)

13. The parties are hereby awarded joint legal custody of the children and shall implement the terms of the Parenting Plan, incorporated herein.

14. If the parties are unable to reach an agreement on any issue related to the children, under the terms of the paragraph above, the party who wishes to have resolution of the issue should present, in writing, a demand for the parties to attend mediation by a specified reasonable date. If the parties cannot otherwise agree, Jordan has final say.

- a. preference should be given to the provisions in the parenting plan;
- b. parents shall use the designated process to resolve disputes relating to implementation of the plan, except those related to financial support, unless an emergency exists;
- c. a written record shall be prepared of any agreement reached in mediation or counseling and provided to each party;
- d. if arbitration becomes necessary, a written record will be prepared and a copy of the arbitration award should be provided to each party;
- e. if the court finds that a parent has used or frustrated the dispute resolution process without good reason, the court may award attorney's fees and financial sanctions to the prevailing parent;

Both parents shall provide notice to the other parent of issues relating to any illness or accident or other circumstance that affects the children's health and welfare, as soon as reasonably possible. Both parties shall have open access to contact the necessary persons or entities so that the party will be notified of significant activities of the children, whether related to education, sports, arts, extra-curricular activities, church or other activities events in which the children participate so that both parents may attend or participate, if otherwise not prohibited by court orders or the binding agreements of the parties.

17. The parties are hereby ordered to follow the advisory guidelines found at Utah Code Ann. § 81-9-202.

18. The parties shall each have the first right of refusal for any period of time in which the parent is unable to provide direct care for the children for the period of four (4) hours. Furthermore, because the parties recognize that parental care is preferable to surrogate care, the parties shall also offer the right of first refusal to the other party if either party is in need of work related childcare. The party exercising the right of first refusal shall be responsible for picking up and dropping off the minor children.

19. If either party desires to travel with the minor children, he or she shall inform the other party in advance of the travel and provide the other party with the travel itinerary and make arrangements for the maintenance of contact between the children and the other party during the trip. If the non-relocating party fails to file a document with the court requesting that the court prevent the move and the parties cannot make other agreement as to the non-relocating parent's parent-time, the non-relocating parent's parent-time with the children shall be according to Utah Code Ann. § 81-9-209. If they refuse to do so the party shall remove the children from that location.

22. The parties shall communicate as much as possible through email, or otherwise in writing, in order to document their communications, agreements, and disputes. Of course, either party should feel free to contact the other party if there is an emergency regarding or during parent-time.

24. The children shall be permitted to communicate with the other parent during either party's parent-time.

25. Both parties shall be restrained from disparaging the other party to or in the presence of the minor children and are to instruct third parties to also be so restrained. Both parties shall be restrained from discussing the legal action or any adult topics with the minor children or in the presence of the children and are to instruct third parties to also be so restrained.

26. Further, both parties are ordered to instruct any adult who discusses the divorce, adult issues, and/or disparages the other party to cease immediately and to remove the children from the presence of that person.

27. Neither party should allow any third party childcare provider to care for the children if that provider uses illegal drugs or abuses alcohol while caring for the minor children. Neither party should allow any third party to verbally or physically abuse or to physically discipline the minor children.

28. If either party is experiencing thoughts of self harm or of harming the children, that party is under an affirmative duty to immediately seek therapeutic intervention and to notify the other party.

29. The preschool currently being attended by B.C. and anticipated to be attended by I.C. when she starts preschool requires parental classroom volunteering four times per school year. In connection with this, Jordan shall be obligated to be the volunteer for the first and third required volunteer days each school year and Joseph shall be obligated to be the volunteer for the second and fourth required volunteer days each school year. This provision shall only apply when a child/children is/are enrolled in the current preschool.

Payments for the Benefit of the Children

31. Joseph is currently employed as an Investment Specialist by SoFi. Per his Financial Declaration, Joseph's gross monthly income is $8,350.

32. Child support shall be as follows:

a. Commencing the month of October of 2026, through the month of April of 2029, Joseph shall pay base child support in the sum of $647.00 per month. This child support figure is based upon utilizing a joint physical custody worksheet with Joseph assigned 172 overnights, Jordan assigned 193 overnights, Jordan's gross monthly income of $2,446.00 and Joseph's gross monthly income of $8,350.00.

b. Commencing the month of May of 2029, Joseph shall pay base child support in the sum of $499.00 per month. This child support figure is based upon utilizing a joint physical custody worksheet with Joseph assigned 182 overnights, Jordan assigned 183 overnights, Jordan's gross monthly income of $2,446.00 and Joseph's gross monthly income of $8,350.00.

c. Child support shall be paid until each child reaches age 18 or graduates from high school in that child's normal and expected year of graduation, whichever is later.

d. Should physical custody of the children change any other time, the child support shall automatically change and be recalculated based on that change. Further, when a child becomes 18 years of age or has graduated from high school during the child's normal and expected year of graduation, whichever occurs later, the base child support awarded shall be automatically adjusted to reflect the base combined child support obligation shown in the table for the remaining number of children due child support, unless otherwise provided. The award may not be reduced by a per child amount derived from the base child support originally ordered.

e. Joseph will pay child support in full by the 5th of each month.

f. Joseph shall make child support payments directly to Jordan, but if payment becomes more than 30 days overdue, the Utah Office of Recovery Services (ORS) will be ordered to collect child support on behalf of the party receiving child support, and both parties shall assist in the filing of appropriate paperwork. The party receiving support has the right to have the income of the party paying support withheld through the ORS. If the ORS collects child support, the ORS shall also collect insurance premiums on behalf of the parties. The party insuring the children shall provide verification of coverage to the other party or to the ORS under Title IV of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. § 601 and continuing, upon initial enrollment of the dependent children and thereafter on or before January 2nd of each calendar year.

g. If a child support order has not been issued or modified within the previous three years, or if there has been a substantial change in circumstances, a parent, legal guardian, or the office may move the court to adjust the child support order pursuant to Utah Code Ann. § 81-6-212(5), (3) – (4).

h. Each party has a duty to disclose a change income that could reasonably result in a modification of child support. In addition, each party has the duty to investigate whether their change in income could potentially modify child support (see <https://ors.utah.gov/child-support/calculate-child-support/>). Child support shall be modified if:

i. Either party's income changes by 30%; or

ii. Child support would change by 15% or more if the recalculation is occurring within three years of the date of this Decree of Divorce; or

iii. Child support would change by 10% or more if the recalculation is occurring after three years of the date of this Decree of Divorce.

Insurance and Other Expenses

33. Pursuant to Utah Code Ann. § 81-6-208, Joseph is hereby ordered to maintain in force any and all health, accident and dental insurance for the benefit of the minor children as available, so long as the same is available at reasonable cost. If Jordan has or gains employment that has the availability of medical insurance for the children, the parties shall determine which party has the more reasonable policy and rate, and that party shall insure the children. Joseph shall continue that coverage as to each child until each child attains the age of 18 years or has graduated from high school during the child's normal and expected year of graduation, whichever occurs later.

34. If, at any point in time, a dependent child is covered by the health, hospital, or dental insurance of both parents, the health, hospital, or dental insurance plan of Joseph shall be primary coverage for the dependent child and the health, hospital, or dental insurance plan of Jordan shall be secondary coverage for the dependent child. If a parent remarries and his or her dependent child is not covered by that parent's health, hospital, or dental insurance plan but is covered by a step-parent's plan, the health, hospital, or dental insurance plan of the step-parent shall be treated as if it is the plan of the remarried parent and shall retain the same designation as the primary or secondary plan of the dependent child.

35. Further, each party shall pay one-half of the out-of-pocket costs of the premium actually paid by the insuring party for the children's portion of insurance. According to statute, the children's portion of the premium is a per capita share of the premium actually paid for the family and should be calculated by dividing the premium amount by the number of persons covered under the policy and multiplying the results by the number of minor children of the parties. The insuring party shall be ordered to provide verification of the coverage of the insurance to the other party upon the divorce or upon initial enrollment and thereafter, and notify the other party of any change in insurance carrier, premium or benefits within 30 days of the date he or she knows of the change.

36. In addition to sharing health insurance premiums, each party shall share, one-half to each, all reasonable and necessary uninsured medical expenses, dental, orthodontic, optical, preventative care, routine visits, allergists or other specialist care, prescriptions, medical devices or psychotherapeutic expenses, including deductibles and co-payments, incurred for the minor children and actually paid by the parties. The party who incurs the medical expense shall provide written verification of the cost and payment of medical expenses to the other party within 30 days of payment. In addition to any other sanctions provided by the court, a parent incurring medical expenses may be denied the right to receive credit for the expense or to recover the other party's share of the expenses if that party fails to comply with this provision. Payment to reimburse a party for paid medical expenses should be made within 30 days of receipt of verification of payment.

37. Each party shall pay any childcare expenses incurred during their parent-time. In connection with this, any third-party paid child care provider shall be mutually agreed upon by the parties in writing.

38. The parties shall share equally any expense associated with an agreed upon extra-curricular activity. In the event the parties are unable to agree on an extra-curricular activity, the party enrolling the child shall be responsible for the associated expense.

39. The parties will share school fees and summer camp costs in a split proportionate to their incomes. The parties will share any reasonable expense for future cell phone plans and car insurance in a split proportionate to their incomes.

Taxes

40. The parties will each claim $\frac{1}{2}$ of the total number of children available to be claimed each year as tax exemptions and be awarded any tax credits related to the children for the purpose of calculating his or her State and Federal income taxes, with Joseph claiming the older child. For years in which there are an odd number of children available to be claimed as dependents for the purposes of credits or exemptions, the parties should alternate years wherein each may claim that odd-number child, beginning with Joseph claiming the minor child for the first tax year after the older child has aged out.

41. In order for Joseph to claim any child for the purposes of tax exemptions or credits in any tax year, Joseph must be current in his child support obligation by the end of the tax year, which is December 31st. The parties shall cooperate in executing Form 8332 or any other necessary tax forms to enable Joseph to so claim the exemption and tax credit.

After completion of the transfer to Jordan, the remaining balance of the account is awarded to Joseph as his sole and separate property free and clear of any claim or interest of Jordan.

Debts

59. Any student loan incurred by either party is the sole responsibility of the party who received the benefit of the education that the student loan provided. The other party shall be released and held harmless on that student loan debt.

60. Aside from debt dealt with elsewhere in this document, during the course of the marriage, the parties have incurred various debts and obligations. It is reasonable that each party shall pay and assume all debts and obligations incurred in his or her own name, including debts incurred during the marriage.

61. The payment of the debts set forth above shall be non-dischargeable in bankruptcy. The party not obligated to pay a joint obligation shall do the following: a) Send a copy of this Decree to each joint creditor that he/she is not required to pay that joint debt; b)

Joseph currently has possession of the Kia, accordingly the parties shall cooperate in order to coordinate a date and time for Jordan to pick up the vehicle from Joseph, which shall occur by 5:00 p.m. on 9/18/26.

65. Prior to and during the course of the parties' marriage, the parties acquired various personal property, such as furniture, electronics, household goods, recreational equipment, artwork, jewelry, and other items. The parties shall each be awarded the personal property each owned prior to marriage. The parties shall equitably divide the personal property acquired during the course of the marriage. If the parties cannot agree on an equitable division of the property, each party shall be ordered to make a detailed list of the items in the home, the value of the items, and a proposed distribution of the items. The parties shall be ordered to exchange immediately all items whose distribution is not in dispute and to attend mediation to resolve any disputes as to further distribution.

66. Jordan shall continue to be covered under Joseph's health insurance policy until entry of this Decree of Divorce. Once this Decree is entered, Jordan shall be removed from the policy and is responsible for her own health insurance coverage at her sole cost.

67. Each party is solely responsible for their own automobile/insurance coverage and associated premiums on the vehicles awarded to them at their own cost. The existing joint auto insurance policy shall be segregated as necessary and transferred to the appropriate party.
