In section (b)(3) Judge Lindsley discussed revisions designed to provide notice in advance that a party is going to request an evidentiary hearing. Discussion followed regarding the potential impact of the revisions on a hearing in which a party requests that a child be removed. The proposed revisions would not impact other relief available to the parties, including proceeding with a shelter hearing and/or requesting an evidentiary hearing at the shelter. Pam Vickrey also discussed concerns regarding the impact in delinquency cases and the use of contempt and further dispositions under advisement. Current practice in this area is not consistent, and the committee agreed that the revisions proposed today will not resolve those issues.

In subparagraph 47 (c) pertaining to disposition reviews, the reference to petition was changed to "written request" because self-represented parties sometimes file requests in writing that do not amount to formal petitions. Revisions were also made to the notice requirement to reflect that the five day notice requirement does not apply if the hearing is expedited.

In subparagraph 47(e), a definition of "intervention plans" was added from statutory language. This statutory definition serves as an umbrella description of documents that have been called treatment plans, correction planes, service plans or child and family service plans.
