(2) the offense alleged to have been committed would be a felony if committed by an adult;

(3) the minor's parent, guardian or custodian cannot be located;

(4) the minor's parent, guardian or custodian refuses to accept custody of the minor;

(5) the minor's parent, guardian or custodian will not produce the minor before the court at an appointed time;

(6) the minor will undertake witness intimidation;

(7) the minor's past record indicates the minor may be a threat to the public safety;

(8) the minor has problems of conduct or behavior so serious or the family relationships are so strained that the minor is likely to be involved in further delinquency; or

(9) the minor has failed to appear for a court hearing within the past twelve months.

The court may appoint counsel for the minor with or without the minor's request.

(g) If the court determines that no reasonable basis exists for the offense or condition alleged as required in Rule 6 as a basis for admission, it shall order the minor released immediately without restrictions. (2) a restriction on the minor's travel, associations or residence during the period of the minor's release; and

(3) other requirements deemed reasonably necessary and consistent with the criteria for detaining the minor.

(h) If the court determines that a reasonable basis exists as to the offense or condition alleged as a basis for the minor's admission to detention but that the minor can be safely left in the care and custody of the parent, guardian or custodian present at the hearing, it may order release of the minor upon the promise of the minor and the parent, guardian or custodian to return to court for further proceedings when notified.
